

Badger Senate Again Changes Its Position on Relief Program

Passes Compromise Measure by Vote
Of 22 to 6

IRKED BY MESSAGE Party Factions Clash Over Order to Get Busy

Madison —(P)—While inter-party strife over Governor LaFollette's message telling the legislature to get to work still smoldered, the senate again reversed itself on the relief question today and passed a compromise bill.

Definitely abandoning the governor's plan for a $3,000,000 relief fund to be distributed only to needy counties, the senate approved a measure brought in by the joint conference committee retaining the $3,000,000 appropriation, but giving each county a share equal to at least 5 per cent of its relief load.

The vote was 22 to 6. The bill was sent at once to the assembly.

Only last week the senate had revived the governor's program after two weeks of futile effort to get together with the assembly on a bill. The joint conference committee was appointed as a result of a deadlock between the two houses.

6 New Subjects
If the assembly also approves the conference report the next major business before the legislature will be the joint resolution under which Governor LaFollette agreed to add six new subjects if the lawmakers will work six days a week and adjourn Oct. 16.

It was this proposal, made in a 3,000 word message yesterday, which aroused the ire of senate Democrats and threatened fresh political outbursts when the resolution comes to a vote.

Under the rules it will come up for debate in the senate tomorrow. The assembly had it on the calendar as a special order of business this morning, but postponed consideration until the afternoon session.

Substitute Proposal
Assemblyman Francis A. Vindora (D), Manitowish, offered a substitute resolution asking the governor to extend the session for anything he desires with the provision that the legislature adjourn "in the shortest possible time" rather than Oct. 16.

Assemblyman Maurice Fitzsimons (D), Fond du Lac, sought unsuccessfully to have spread on the records a prepared statement that the governor was attempting to exercise "soviet rule" in asking the assembly to pass six measures in eight days.

He charged the governor was guilty of "flagrant back-passing and gubernatorial insincerity."

The house refused, 62 to 24, to incorporate the statement in the journal of proceedings.

The chief executive's ultimatum that he will not give the session any more bills unless it agrees to work six days a week, eight hours a day and adjourn Oct. 16, drew quick fire in the senate a few minutes after the message had been delivered.

Senator Joseph Clancy (D) Rancine branded the governor as a "cheap politician" and his 3,000-word message as a "cheap tirade."

Referring to that part of the message which admonished the lawmakers they had left much unfinished business at the regular session and had done practically nothing in the special session, Clancy charged that the executive was acting in bad faith.

Sees "Gag Rule"
He said the resolution under which the governor proposed that the legislature dispose of six new subjects by Oct. 16 smacked of "gag rule."

"It is unique," he said, "coming from a governor who is just back from a fishing trip with 25 newspaper men, two other governors and straphangers, all at the state's expense. I have never heard such a cheap tirade. It sounds like Hitler and Mussolini."

The governor said he was prepared to introduce a program dealing with agriculture, industry, old age pension administration, reorganization of state departments, re-enact-

CHALLENGES BLACK'S COURT SEAT

As Justice Hugo L. Black took his seat on the supreme court, two motions were made to the court challenging his right to the position. One of the motions was by Albert Levitt, retired justice department official who is shown as he entered the court building, seeking permission to bring a formal suit challenging the constitutionality of the appointment. The court deferred action on the motion.

Want Labor Board Disbanded; Claim It Supports CIO

Federation Considers Resolution Offered by Boot-Shoe Union

Denver —(P)—A fiery resolution introduced at the American Federation of Labor convention by the Boot and Shoe Workers' union called upon President Roosevelt today to disband the national labor relations board because, it said, the board is "actively supporting and upholding" the CIO.

The resolution, which A. F. of L. leaders said echoed sentiment of the federation as a whole, was sent to the resolutions committee of the convention, which opened here yesterday. There was no indication when the committee would report on it.

The resolution asked Mr. Roosevelt, congress and Secretary of Labor Perkins to discharge the labor board's employees because board personnel is "selected, dictated, controlled and supervised by the CIO," headed by John J. Lewis.

William Green, A. F. of L. president, called upon the federation yesterday to expel Lewis and his 10 "rebel" unions.

"The hour is here," he said in a speech opening the convention, "having appealed to them for two years to come back, you will now order your board of directors to revoke the charters of this dual movement."

More fireworks were in the air, meanwhile, as the time neared for J. Warren Madden, chairman of the labor board, to address the convention. Leaders said privately Madden may be in for a taste of heckling.

In its report to the convention, the federation's executive council said the board had given the public good grounds to believe it was "decidedly pro-CIO" but added that some of the criticism directed at the board was "only natural against a government board which has been functioning such a short time and under such serious handicaps."

The council suggested the board keep out of A. F. of L.-CIO disputes, saying that the Wagner act was not intended to cover such.

Fascist Court-Martial

Ponders Dahl's Fate

Salamanca, Spain —(P)—Harold E. Dahl, the Illinois flier who joined the Spanish government air force and was shot down by Spanish insurgents, was court-martialed today in the grand salon of an ancient Moorish palace.

Little more than an hour was required for Dahl to present his story to the military tribunal, contending that he went to Spain as instructor but was forced to fight.

The court withheld judgment until Thursday at 2 o'clock p. m. It must forward its verdict to Generalissimo Francisco Franco for approval or clemency.

As the prisoners sat on a bench in the middle of the courtroom, Dahl's story was read — beginning with his going to Mexico where he contends he was promised $1,500 monthly to fly for the Madrid-Valencia government and ending with his capture by insurgents.

Autoist Found Negligent in Woman's Death

Coroner's Jury Places
Blame in New London
Crash

MAN FACES CHARGE

Hilbert Farmer Critically Hurt as Train and Truck Collide

Paul Neubauer, 27, Monroe, was found negligent by a coroner's jury today in the death of Mrs. E. K. Metzendorf, 55, Topeka, Kan., which resulted from an auto crash at New London yesterday afternoon. He will be arraigned in court of Justice of the Peace F. W. Johnson at Waupaca tomorrow morning and charged with first degree manslaughter, according to Paul E. Roman, Waupaca county district attorney.

Mrs. Metzendorf died of a fractured skull and internal injuries following an accident involving cars driven by Neubauer and E. K. Metzendorf at the junction of Highways 45 and 54.

Alfred Kuster, 42, Hilbert, is in a critical condition in a Fond du Lac hospital with injuries suffered when his milk truck and a train collided near Chilton at 9:30 yesterday morning. The truck was involved in a collision with a south-bound Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad passenger train at Kraemer's crossing two miles north of Chilton.

Condition Improved
He suffered a broken pelvis, internal injuries and four broken ribs and was taken to St. Agnes hospital, Fond du Lac. His condition was reported slightly improved today.

That Mrs. Metzendorf met her death in an accident which resulted from Neubauer's negligence in failing to stop at an arterial was the verdict of a coroner's jury this morning at an inquest held at New London.

The accident occurred as Neubauer was going east on Highway 54 and Metzendorf south on Highway 45 about 3:20 Monday afternoon.

With Neubauer at the time of the accident were Mrs. Ernest Neubauer, 56, Mrs. Alfred Morgenthaler, 45, Monroe, and Miss Anna Janiczek, 51, Springs Valley, Ill. Metzendorf, 47, and four occupants of the Neubauer car were taken to the Community hospital with minor cuts and bruises. None was seriously injured but all were badly shaken.

Thrown From Car
Mrs. Metzendorf was thrown from the car when the impact of the crash spun the machine around. The car stopped against a telephone pole and the machine had to be moved to free Mrs. Metzendorf who was underneath.

Neubauer on the witness stand this morning testified that he was traveling about 50 or 55 miles per hour and that he did not see the stop sign. He admitted seeing the junction sign, but said he did not see the other car until he was about 30 feet from the intersection.

Metzendorf testified he was traveling about 35 miles per hour.

The inquest was conducted by Waupaca County Coroner J. C. Johnson. Members of the jury were Fred Rogers, Leo Poeple, Milo Smith, Ralph Hanson, Earl Meiklejohn and William Freiburger, New London.

Besides the widow, Mrs. Metzendorf is survived by a daughter. The body was taken to the Heuer funeral home at Clintonville where a nephew, Arthur Metzendorf, resides.

Highway Safety Measure Killed

Assembly Rejects Cashman Bill: Senate Revamps House Plan

Madison —(P)—Governor LaFollette's highway safety program, one of the three major proposals listed in the special session call, appeared to be doomed in both houses of the legislature today.

The assembly by a vote of 48 to 45 killed the Cashman drivers' license bill which passed in the senate yesterday.

The senate, meanwhile, amended the Thomson-Peterson bill that originated in the assembly to a point at which it was no longer acceptable to administration leaders.

Although the bill as it reached the senate would have cost the state $500,000 a year for safety education and a corps of traffic officers, the proposed expenditure was boosted to $1,200,000 by an amendment for snow removal added to it in the senate.

The amendment was introduced by Senator Earl Leverich (P), Sparta.

The assembly bill was changed to eliminate the provision that the safety traffic officers would lack jurisdiction over all law violations within 500 feet of a labor dispute.

After refusing 18 to 8 to non-concur in the bill as amended, the senate declined to suspend the rules and place it on final passage.

Charges Outlined In Federal Trial Of Oil Companies

Lawyers Clash Over Effort To Forestall Defense
Based on NRA

Madison —(P)—The government drew the outlines today of its gasoline price-fixing conspiracy charge in federal court against major oil companies operating in 10 midwestern states.

Before W. P. Crawford of Superior, Wis., white-haired member of the government staff, explained how the prosecution alleges the companies "rigged" the market, prosecution and defense attorneys exchanged sharp words over the government's effort to forestall any defense based upon the outlawed NRA.

Judge Patrick T. Stone withheld until later in the day a ruling on the request of Hammond E. Chafetz, chief prosecutor, to deny the defense any right to assert before the jury that the oil companies had government approval for their activities, unless a basis for such claim is established in court.

While jurors waited in an ante-room, Colonel William J. Donovan of New York, chief defense counsel, declared the companies "had both written and oral approval" of the government for price stabilization activities.

Charges "Rigged" Market
In his opening statement to the jury Crawford said the 23 oil companies on trial here "drove the jobbers (wholesalers) to the wall by a rigged market."

"They couldn't get gasoline from independent refiners because the major companies had taken it all," he said, under the conspiracy charged in the indictment, and had to buy at artificially raised prices.

"The master mind in this conspiracy," Crawford said, "was Charles E. Arnott, vice president of Socony Vacuum."

Crawford said the major companies bought through associations of independent refiners which they helped organize.

Anticipating that sponsorship of buying pools under the national recovery act would be part of the defense, Chafetz had declared the issue of the NRA could be "at most only a partial defense."

Ruling Within 4 Weeks

In Leather Firm Case

Madison —(P)—Circuit Judge Robert S. Cowie said today he would announce within four weeks his decision in the case of the Fred Rueping Leather Co. of Fond du Lac involving the first test of the constitutionality of the Wisconsin labor relations act.

Attorneys for the labor board concluded arguments yesterday on the company's appeal from a board order directing it to desist from alleged discrimination against employees engaged in union activities.

The company maintained it is engaged in interstate commerce and not subject to orders of the state board, that the powers granted the board by the Wisconsin law are illegal.

Minnesotan Convicted

In Manslaughter Case

Duluth, Minn. —(P)—A district court jury today convicted Charles Shidder of first degree manslaughter in connection with the death of his wife, Genevieve, whose body was found in a faked automobile accident July 3.

Shidder faces a sentence of five to twenty years. The jury found him guilty of slaying his wife and faking the automobile accident to hide the crime.

Shidder had contended in court that his wife committed suicide and that he attempted to conceal it by faking the car accident.

Governor Signs Order for Three-Day

Deer Hunting Season, Nov. 29 to Dec. 1

Madison —(P)—Governor LaFollette announced today he had signed an official order providing for a three-day open hunting season on deer in Wisconsin from Nov. 29 to Dec. 1 inclusive.

As was the case last year, one buck will be the bag limit and one deer with forked horns may be shot. The chief executive amended a tentative order recommended by the state conservation commission which proposed a five-day season from Nov. 23 to Dec. 2.

Open season on deer as a rule have been allowed only in the last

DEFENSE CHIEF

Madison —(P)—Colonel William J. Donovan (above) chief counsel for the defendants in the anti-trust case against the nation's major oil industry, told Federal Judge Patrick T. Stone today the 23 companies involved will prove their price stabilization activities had both "the written and oral" approval of the government.

"We claim that the proof we will submit," Colonel Donovan said, "will clearly show we had the authority and approval of the secretary of the interior (Harold L. Ickes)."

America Won't Remain Aloof in 'Positive Endeavors to Preserve Peace,' He Declares in Chicago Address; Says 'Present Reign of Terror Began Few Years Ago'

Chicago —(AP)—A demonstrative through today heard President Roosevelt rip into war-inclined nations in sounding an emphatic call to the world for "concerted" action for restoration of universal peace.

Facing a crowd estimated by police at upwards of 50,000 gathered to watch him dedicate Chicago's outer link highway bridge, the chief executive in a stirring plea for sanctity of treaties and sanity in international dealings asserted:

"There must be positive endeavors to preserve peace."

He did not disclose what he had in mind in this direction but hinted at measures which in effect would "quarantine" the militaristic "10 per cent" to protect the 90 per cent of the world population he described as peace-loving.

"It seems unfortunately true," he asserted, "that the epidemic of world lawlessness is spreading."

"When an epidemic of physical disease starts to spread, the community approves and joins in a quarantine of the patients in order to protect the health of the community against the spread of the disease."

The president motored to the center of Chicago's centennial jubilee celebration through a downtown storm of ticker tape and paper scraps. Thousands lined Michigan boulevard and other streets to cheer him.

Corporation Counsel Barnett Hodes estimated "three quarters of a million" persons joined in the mass scale demonstration.

Spectators stood six to ten deep on both sides of the two-mile parade route.

Says Covenant Broken

The president charged aggressor nations with violating the covenant of the League of Nations, the Kellogg-Brand pact and the nine-power treaty guaranteeing the territorial integrity of China, and of "ignoring" humane instincts.

This, he said, was creating a "state of international anarchy and instability from which there is no escape through mere isolation or neutrality."

Another enthusiastic demonstration followed his statement that he was determined to "pursue a policy of peace and to adopt every practicable measure to avoid involvement in war."

The president said America determined to stay out of war, would not remain aloof from these efforts, and, as if in reply to those who have been urging an American neutrality proclamation, declared:

"Peace-loving nations must make a concerted effort in opposition to those violations of treaties and those ignorings of humane instincts which today are creating a state of international anarchy and instability from which there is no escape through mere isolation or neutrality."

Without mentioning any nations by name, it was clear his indictments of aggressors for "definite" violations of agreements embraced the Sino-Japanese conflict, the Mediterranean submarine attacks, outside interference in the Spanish civil war and possibly went as far back as the Japanese invasion of Manchuria and Italy's Ethiopian campaign.

He said the "present reign of terror and international lawlessness" began a few years ago with the "unjustified interference in the internal affairs of other nations or the invasion of alien territory in violation of treaties and has now reached a stage where the very foundations of civilization are seriously threatened."

Speaking of more recent disorders, he continued: "Without a doubt, the present reign of terror and international lawlessness" began a few years ago with the "unjustified interference in the internal affairs of other nations or the invasion of alien territory in violation of treaties and has now reached a stage where the very foundations of civilization are seriously threatened."

Guards Vigilant As Hunger Strike Remains Unbroken

Joliet, Ill. —(P)—An augmented force of armed guards maintained a vigilant watch on the Stateville prison population today for new manifestations of unrest that sent 1,000 inmates on a hunger strike.

Prison officials laid in extra supplies of food and candy and guns. All guards on duty were ordered to be ready for emergency calls. Prison rules and regulations were tightened as the tension increased.

Warden Joseph E. Ragen said he believed the situation was "well in hand" but he added, "we are taking no chances." Approximately 3,000 inmates were locked in their cells "until the strike ends." Others—about 500—were permitted out of cells to do necessary tasks.

The warden said about half the prison population ate breakfast to day in their cells and "all were quiet."

Warden Ragen attributed the hunger strike to resentment against the state board of pardon and parole.

Nine Powers Will Be Asked to Act In Orient Strife

U. S. Included in 'Invitations' to Discuss Far Eastern Situation

Geneva.—(4)—The drafting committee of the League advisory group on the Sino-Japanese conflict agreed today that signatories of the 1928 treaty, including the United States, should be "invited" to meet at the earliest possible moment to examine the Far Eastern situation.

It was understood also that concessions were made to a Chinese demand that the 9-power conference invitation should not be the only action taken. The Chinese representatives insisted the league also should recognize its obligation to act.

A draft of the proposals is to be submitted later to the subcommittee of 13, and if approved there it will be then presented to the full advisory committee which in turn would report to the league assembly.

The effort to call together the nine powers earlier had been snagged by determined Chinese and Russian opposition to a 9-power conference on the conflict.

Oppose British Plan
The Chinese delegation, solidly supported by their Russian allies, was learned to have opposed the British project for convocation of the signatories of the Washington treaty guaranteeing China's territorial integrity, unless the League of Nations continues its study of charges accusing Japan as an aggressor nation.

The position taken by China and Russia was based on the hope of ultimate league measures to aid China as a victim of aggression. The particular articles invoked by China in her charge against Japan were 10 and 11 of the league covenant which bind the league to take measures to preserve the territorial integrity of members against aggression.

Until the opposition developed, forcing postponement of its meeting today, the advisory subcommittee on Sino-Japanese affairs, with the United States sitting in consultation, was believed to have accepted the British proposal and agreed to convene a convocation of the nine powers at a large meeting last night.

U. S. Making Studies
(Dispatches from Washington for some time have indicated the United States was engaged in secret studies with other powers to see if the 9-power pact could not be used to restore peace in China.)

(The United States and Great Britain were known to have previously begun exchanging information on their views and diplomatic maneuvers in the Far Eastern crisis, a move which might have strengthened the British decision to invoke the terms of the pact.)

The factual investigation by the great powers at Geneva was said to have resulted in an impression that Japan's military action in China was "unjustified" by the incidents leading up to it.

The three main points of the subcommittee's conclusions were listed as an indictment of Japan for:

1. "Invasion" of China by Japanese troops;
2. Bombardment of the Chinese civil population contrary to the rules of warfare;
3. "Impeding" normal Chinese commerce by a naval blockade of the China coast.

Safety Council Presents Rules for Study During Fire Prevention Week

A $263,000,000 pile of ashes that wasn't worth a dime to anyone but the junk man—that's what fire gave the United States last year. Fire Prevention week is being observed this week and cooperation of all Appleton residents in eliminating fire hazards has been asked by Fire Chief George B. McGillan.

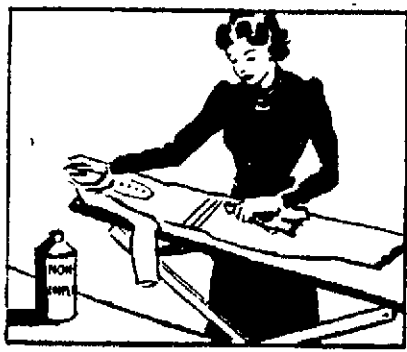

Every year 7,000 persons, half of them children, are killed in burning homes. A third of America's annual fires consume dwellings.

The National Safety Council, which announced these figures, says that fire losses in private dwellings can be lessened materially if the advice illustrated in the accompanying sketches is followed.

If your house does catch fire, a rug or heavy garment may smother a small blaze; a fire extinguisher easily put out. If the fire is large, the council advises:

GUARD FIRES
Enclose all fireplaces, wood or coal-burning, with wire screening. Keep a fire extinguisher in the house. Fireproof the house as much as possible.

CLEAN SAFELY
Never use gasoline or naphtha for home garment cleaning. Never start a fire with kerosene or gasoline. If you must keep such fluids, put them in safety cans, outdoors.

WATCH WIRING
Be sure floor lamps and extension cords are repaired. Disconnect electric appliances not in use. Use only appliances approved by testing bureaus.

BEWARE OF SOOT
Have chimneys, flues, furnace or stove cleaned annually. Protect woodwork and other flammable parts near furnace or stove with insulation. Don't leave dust rags near hot pipes.

SMOKE CAREFULLY
Extinguish all cigar and cigarette butts in metal trays. Keep matches in metal containers, out of reach of the children. Don't smoke in bed.

KEEP OIL OUTSIDE
Set oily rags in open air, burn oily rags. Don't store flammable material in closets. Keep gas cocks closed; never look for gas leaks with a flame.

WAIT ON THE WIND
When you rake up leaves and dead grass to burn outdoors, wait until there is no wind. And never leave such fires unattended. Always put furnace ashes in metal containers.

Women's Mission Federation Will Meet in Appleton

Fellowship Institute Also On Church Calendar This Week

Two important events on the church calendar for this week is the third biennial convention of the Women's Missionary Federation of the American Lutheran church, Wisconsin district, to be held Thursday at First English Lutheran church, and the World Fellowship Institute to be sponsored by Interdenominational Women's Federation of Appleton at First Baptist church also on Thursday.

The theme of the 1-day state meeting at First English Lutheran church will be "The Kingdom Come" and Mrs. L. F. Gast, Green Bay, federation president, will preside. Speakers will include the Rev. H. Meyer of Milwaukee who will give an address on "Home Missions," the Rev. R. R. Hanselmann, Oconomowoc, returned missionary from New Guinea, who will speak on his experiences in New Guinea, and Miss Mabel Thorsen, Milwaukee, representative of the Lutheran Welfare society. Election of state officers will be held in the afternoon. The sessions will open at 10 o'clock in the morning.

Three guest speakers will address the World Fellowship Institute which will take place all day Thursday at First Baptist church under the auspices of Interdenominational Women's Federation which is composed of a number of co-operating Protestant churches. The speakers will be Mrs. Garrett E. De Jong, Cedar Grove, a missionary on furlough from the Woman's Board of Foreign Missions, Reformed Church in America, who will speak on Arabia; Miss Esther M. McRuer, associate district secretary of the Board of National Missions of the Presbyterian church in the United States; and Charles Velle, Neenah, a layman and member of the official board of the Wisconsin Temperance and Educational association of Madison. The institute will begin at 10 o'clock Thursday morning and close at 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

Go To Convention
Two out-of-town meetings this week are drawing groups from Appleton. The Rev. William J. Spicer, pastor of the First English Lutheran church, Mrs. Spicer and Dr. John S. Millis, dean of Lawrence college, left Monday for Cincinnati, Ohio, where they will attend the general convention of the Protestant Episcopal church opening Wednesday. Dr. Millis is one of four lay delegates from the Fond du Lac diocese.

A group of people from First Congregational church are attending the annual state meeting of the Wisconsin Congregational conference in Whitewater today, Wednesday and Thursday. They are the Rev. John B. Hanna, the Rev. and Mrs. Horace W. Parsons, Dr. and Mrs. John W. Wilson, F. J. Harwood and Miss Ruth Davies.

Forty hours' devotion, an annual event in all Catholic churches, will be held over the weekend at St. Therese church. It will open Friday and close Sunday.

Series of Lectures
A series of lectures on current events by Donald D'Shaune, professor of the subject for 30 minutes each month is required under the state law. Safety study units have been prepared by Henry J. Van Straten, county superintendent of schools, and are being sent to the various teachers this week.

The units are on use of highways, bicycle riding, the pedestrian and police and traffic officers. The hazards of bicycle riding at night are pointed out and the fact that the chief purpose of present day roadways is for vehicular travel is stressed.

Parking Law Violators Fined by Judge Ryan
Four Appleton motorists were fined $1 and costs each, by Judge Thomas H. Ryan in municipal court this morning when they pleaded guilty of violating the city parking ordinance. They are Clark Teal, 1125 W. Lorain street; Ernest H. Mueller, 412 W. Summer street; Arthur Stumpf, 1335 S. Oneida street; and Ray Rennett, 1048 E. Green Bay street. The arrests were made by Appleton police.

Wussow Herd Best In Production of Milk Last Month

Leads Improvement Group With Average of 56.7 Pounds of Butterfat

Producing an average of 725 pounds of milk and 33.6 pounds of butterfat, the Jersey herd of Herman Wussow led production in the Black Creek-Cicero Herd Improvement association last month. It was reported today, Charles Wussow was owner of the high producing cow for September. It produced 1,290 pounds of milk or 56.7 pounds of butterfat.

The Holstein herd of Albert Krahn was second in production with an average of 939 pounds of milk and 30.6 pounds of butterfat. Third place went to the Jersey herd of Emil Barth with an average of 598 pounds of milk and 29.7 pounds of butterfat. Fourth was the Guernsey herd of Guy Daniels with an average of 649 pounds of milk and 27.9 pounds of butterfat. The Guernsey herd of Elmer Gosse with an average of 649 pounds of milk and 27.8 pounds of butterfat was fifth. Sixth place went to Ray Daniels whose Guernsey herd produced an average of 632 pounds of milk and 26.8 pounds of butterfat.

Owners of other high cow producers and their records: Charles Wussow, 1,050 pounds of milk or 50.4 pounds of butterfat; Emil Barth, 741 pounds of milk or 45.2 pounds of butterfat; Albert Krahn, 1,368 pounds of milk or 45.1 pounds of butterfat, and Charles Wussow, 900 pounds of milk or 45 pounds of butterfat.

Safety New Study Unit In Outagamie Schools

One of the new subjects being taught in Outagamie county rural schools this year is safety. Teaching of the subject for 30 minutes each month is required under the state law. Safety study units have been prepared by Henry J. Van Straten, county superintendent of schools, and are being sent to the various teachers this week.

The units are on use of highways, bicycle riding, the pedestrian and police and traffic officers. The hazards of bicycle riding at night are pointed out and the fact that the chief purpose of present day roadways is for vehicular travel is stressed.

Cashman Scolds as He Opens Debate On His License Bill

Attacks 'Gold Coasters' for Opposing His Measure In Legislature

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
Madison.—Editors of newspapers who oppose him, those who lack that patriotic sentiment which fills the hearts of good Irishmen, the University of Wisconsin, and residents of "the gold coast in Milwaukee," were submitted to a withering oratorical blast from Senator John E. Cashman of Denmark as he opened his battle to pass a drivers' license law in the state senate Monday.

"I always hesitate to talk about newspapers, because editors always have the last word and have a greater audience than I have," he began, as he opened fire on editorial critics of his license bill, a bill which has been before the senate once before this year. Some newspapers now "are stooping in the dirt to defeat my bill," he declared. Cashman also expressed resentment of the fact that only nine students enrolled in a new course in Gaelic and Irish history at the University of Wisconsin this year, a course authorized by the legislature and financed with a $12,000 appropriation annually.

Although the university has sunk into disgrace during the last few years, it now has the largest enrollment in its history," he said, attributing that huge enrollment to the fact that the school now offers instruction in Irish history and literature.

When Senator Oscar Morris of Milwaukee questioned some features in his licensing measures, Cashman flared back with the declaration that "of course, those people on the gold coast in Milwaukee don't care to come down to the common people to take a test."

Cashman assailed the Milwaukee Journal, which has been especially critical of the legislative creation of the University of Wisconsin course in Irish, and exclaimed that Irish instruction at the university will instill into students a spirit of Americanism "so that communists and money collectors for Spain will be thrown into that nearby lake." (Several university radicals were once sent into Lake Mendota by pranksters.)

It became evident yesterday that Cashman will have a fight on his hands with the drivers' license bill, which he said will weed out, through compulsory examinations, "the ten percent of the drivers who are now slaughtering our citizens on the highways."

Pick Officers at Clintonville High

All Classes are Organized For Activities During School Year

Clintonville.—All classes of Clintonville High school elected their officers at meetings held before the school hour Monday morning. Of special interest because he will be the prom king next spring is the election of Harland Kirchner as president of the junior class. William Stieg was chosen vice president and Elaine Greitzinger, secretary-treasurer.

Officers of the senior class are: Frederick Kant, president; Beverly Winchester, vice president; and Donabelle Schroeder, secretary-treasurer.

Sophomores elected Robert Morris, president; Phyllis Hedtke, vice president; and Marjorie Speckhard, secretary-treasurer.

Those chosen to serve as officers of the Freshman class are Marjorie Stieg, president; Wesley Thies, vice president; and Lyle Rohloff, secretary-treasurer.

Dr. and Mrs. John Rogers of Oshkosh were Sunday dinner guests at the home of the latter's mother, Mrs. C. B. Stanley, the occasion being her birthday anniversary.

Mrs. Joseph Leyrer, Mrs. Ida Keill and daughter Lucille of this city, Mrs. Fred Bruss of route 1 and her daughter, Mrs. Urban Wurm of New London, spent Sunday with relatives at Wrightstown.

Mrs. Edward J. Meyer and son Jack of this city and the former's mother, Mrs. Ella French of Oshkosh, spent the weekend at Minnetonka, Minn., with Mr. and Mrs. Bert French. Mr. French is a brother of Mrs. Meyer. They were accompanied as far as Eau Claire by Mrs. Mary Karzewski of this city who visited Saturday and Sunday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Maurice Kiley, and family.

Adughter was born Sept. 30 to Mr. and Mrs. Howard Rogers, who reside near Marion.

Charles Thomson returned home Saturday from a ten months' absence, during which he was in South America and Europe in the interests of the Four Wheel Drive Auto company, of which he is foreign sales manager. During his stay in Europe, his headquarters were at Hotel Metropole, Brussels, Belgium.

Mrs. Thomson and son, James, spent the summer with Mr. Thomson, returning here before the opening of school early in September. While abroad, the Thomsons made a number of sight-seeing trips, among which was a week's motor trip through France. They visited Paris and the famous Eiffel tower. They also saw many of the battle fields of the World War. They report great unrest at present in Europe and say that from their observation, those nations may be plunged into a war at any time.

They say that the French are not courteous toward Americans and seem to feel an inborn hatred toward American travelers. Their itinerary also took them to Switzerland where they visited the scenic Alps mountains, and went to Geneva to visit the Peace conference building.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomson have made two previous trips to South America.

Designate 2 Days to Honor Discoverers of America

Madison.—(4)—Christopher Columbus and Leif Erikson, the two men variously credited in Wisconsin with discovery of the New World, will be honored by the state under proclamations issued by Governor LaFollette.

Following out a mandate of the legislature declaring Oct. 9 as "Leif Erikson day" and Oct. 12 as "Landing day" in honor of Columbus, the governor called upon all citizens to pay tribute to the explorers.

He said that Erikson was one of those men by whom every generation is distinguished.

"Nearly a thousand years ago he and his tiny band of Norse seamen set out westward in Atlantic ocean and reached what we now know as Newfoundland," the proclamation said. "Then they proceeded along the eastern shore of the United States and spent a winter in America."

"It is fitting that the citizens of Wisconsin should honor Leif Erikson's life of heroic adventure, for his courage, spirit and determination deserve our deep respect and admiration."

In the second proclamation the governor recalled that the legislature has designated Oct. 12 as "Landing day" in commemoration of the landing of Columbus at San Salvador in the West Indies in 1492.

"That auspicious occasion," the executive said, "marked the opening of a new age in civilization and the development of the two American continents. It is fitting that American citizens should honor Columbus for his enduring courage and vision."

Open Korner Kove At Wilson School

Donald Newton Is President of Junior High Candy Store Company

Business science classes at Wilson Junior High school Monday opened the Korner Kove, school candy store venture, with 227 stockholders. Stock was sold to business and algebra classes at 10 cents per share.

Donald Newton has been named president of the company. Virginia Lang is secretary and Frances Galpin treasurer. Members of the board of directors are the three officers, Howard Farrand, David Zehner, Robert Klitzke.

Business manager of the company is James Miller while all buying is done by Harley Henke. Lawrence Hauser is advertising manager. Advertising posters have been put up on all school bulletin boards and at various places of advantage about the building.

Mary Ebert submitted the winning name for this year's venture, the Korner Kove. Pictures of officers, members of the board of directors and employees of the company are on display at the school.

Lawrence Says Klan Issue Not Dead in Politics

Won't Be Until Thoroughly Exposed to Healthy Air Of Discussion

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
Washington—Many a person—perhaps the average man and woman—is wondering today just what the Ku Klux Klan issue means in everyday life in America. Is it just a question of what kind of justices should sit on the supreme court? Is it a question relating to freedom of religion? Or is it just another manifestation of something often suppressed but never quite extinguished—racial and religious antagonism where public office is concerned?

It is the last of these which, translated into everyday language, means that there are people in the United States who believe that no Catholic should ever be president of the United States and that no Jews or Negroes or sons of foreign born should be elected to high office in our government.

There is a good deal of hypocrisy about the issue. It isn't a pro or anti-Roosevelt or a pro or anti-New Deal matter. Some of the same people who are opposed to the continuance of Hugo Black on the bench of the supreme court because he admitted he was a member of the Ku Klux Klan were probably among those who, a few months ago, were privately denouncing Mr. Roosevelt because he had a number of Jews in his administration.

For several months there has been an anti-Semitic propaganda circulated by a group who have been accusing President Roosevelt of undue friendliness to Jews. Likewise there has been a propaganda denouncing Mr. Roosevelt because he gave a Catholic, Postmaster General Farley, so much power in his administration.

There are some people who, to this day, think that a Catholic elected to high office would "take orders from the pope" and would owe allegiance to a higher authority than our government. Such nonsense is widely believed in the country districts in America and unfortunately in some city districts, too, where this propaganda of religious intolerance is distributed.

Error of Judgment
President Roosevelt made a grievous error in nominating Hugo Black to the bench, but it was an error of judgment and not in any way a sanction on his part even remotely of the motives and purposes of the Ku Klux Klan. It is true the president knew about the Klan charge when the Black nomination was being debated. Then was the time for him to have looked into it and to have withdrawn the nomination, or at least to have permitted his lieutenants in the senate to let the motion pass which called for an inquiry by the senate judiciary committee.

But Mr. Roosevelt thought the Klan a dead issue. He probably never believed it would raise the fuss it did. Mr. Roosevelt was so intent on having his way and was so concentrated on the notion that he was putting a "liberal" on the bench that everything else was subordinated in his mind. Far from excusing the president, this convicts him of haste and impulsiveness, which has been at the bottom of so many of his mistakes, as, for instance, the decision to put the air mail in the hands of the army fliers, a circumstance that led to the unnecessary deaths of 10 young men.

But to say that the president would have allowed Mr. Black to be confirmed if he had estimated or evaluated the reaction of the country accurately or if he could have known what a furor Mr. Black's confession of membership would have made is to ignore Mr. Roosevelt's record. It was he who stood up for Al Smith in 1924 and 1928 when the same Klan forces were trying to prevent a Catholic from becoming president of the United States.

This problem of discrimination among racial and religious groups is not a pleasant one to discuss, for it contains the ingredients of much misunderstanding. But discrimination does exist in American politics, notwithstanding the direct provision of the constitution, which says that no religious test shall ever be required for public office.

Bolted Ticket
The Democratic party has the distinction of being the first to nominate a Catholic for the presidency, but it also has the shameful record that several states in the south bolted the Democratic ticket for the first time when Al Smith was nominated in 1928. The prejudice was present in the north, too, where millions of Democrats bolted the ticket rather than vote for a Catholic. Some contended it was prohibition—and doubtless it was in certain instances—but, four years later, Mr. Roosevelt, a Protestant, who had declared for prohibition repeal, carried every southern state.

Discrimination in business and the professions as well as socially in the United States can often be traced to racial and religious differences. But the record of some of our public men is not too clear on this point. For many of them belong to ostensibly nonsectarian organizations, social to be sure, which make it a point never to admit a Catholic or a Jew, no matter how well they may meet all the qualifications, including the element of individual compatibility. So long as things of this kind exist in free America, the Black episode will have a very grave importance.

Today, millions of persons who were not of voting age a dozen years ago have learned that the Ku Klux Klan existed for the purpose of preventing Catholics, Jews and

Corn Borer Fails to Make Progress in State Fields

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
Madison—The state's official entomologist, (he's the fellow who studies bugs) announced jubilantly today that the corn borer, a destructive and dangerous crop pest, has thus far failed to establish himself in Wisconsin, although he has tried hard for a couple of seasons in nine northeastern Wisconsin counties.

A seasonal report on the annual survey of E. L. Chambers, state entomologist, today revealed the presence of corn borers in only 55 fields, all in northeastern Wisconsin.
Only a few stalks in each field were found to be infested, the bug expert reported, indicated that the presence of the pest in widely scattered areas is due to the migration of corn borer moths across Lake Michigan.

The most serious infestations were discovered in Door, Sheboygan, and Manitowish counties. The borer was found in 15 fields in Door county, 13 in Manitowish, 11 in Sheboygan, 4 in Calumet, 4 in Ozaukee, 2 in Brown, and 1 in Kewaunee, Fond du Lac, and Winnebago counties.
Chambers and his assistants have been conducting cleanup campaigns against the pest since the first discovery of infestation back in 1931. Highest number of infestations was in 1935, when 133 fields were affected, he said.

NAZIS BANISH SERPENT
Berlin—(U)—That venerable symbol of medical organizations throughout the world, the Aesculapian staff with its coiled serpent, has been disestablished by the Reich Labor Front Medical Corps. Reich labor medics will wear on their collars the ancient Germanic rune of life—a three-pronged-like sign.

Bruno Mussolini, Il Duce's Son, Fights for Insurgents With Italian Air Squadron

destroyer Basilisk had been within a half mile of one of the numerous depth bombs launched to blast it apart.

London and Paris were convinced that Premier Mussolini was doing all he could to maneuver himself into a bargaining position with the "volunteers" issue by pushing for a victory over the Valencia Republic government before winter sets in.

But this course seemed very likely to stiffen the hitherto "courtious" Anglo-French approach to get Il Duce's legions out of Spain.

Await Rome's Reply
Rome's reply to the London-Paris invitation to discuss intervention held the key to the situation which will decide the course of future Anglo-French action to parry Italian intervention in Spain.

Tons of modern depth charges from seven British destroyers churned the newest Mediterranean piracy spot into a lake of death today for the mysterious submarine attacker of his majesty's destroyer Basilisk.

The mighty concussive forces unleashed under the Mediterranean off Cape San Antonio, Spain, seemed certain to have sealed the doom of the undersea raider and its crew if caught within their area.

With royal air force planes overhead, the destroyers plumed the depths with bombs weighing 180 to 300 pounds, catapulted or rolled from their decks, capable of exploding at any depth through hydrostatic firing valves. Each charge had a radius of destruction up to half a mile.

Resume Positions
British circles were cautious to the extreme about speculating on the identity of the torpedoed raider. Observers on the Spanish coast felt that the search for the Basilisk's attacker had been ended last night when the cruising warships steamed south after six hours of depth bombing. But they returned to the deadly job for a while today, then took their regular patrol positions in mid-morning.

The hunt for the submarine seemed finished after one of the many explosions was followed by a large column of smoke that overhung the sea for 10 minutes—like a fleeing monument over the warped bulk of an undersea raider.

The Basilisk escaped the torpedo while cruising about 25 miles east of Cape San Antonio with a sister destroyer.

Release Depth Charges
Both destroyers released depth charges immediately and were joined forthwith by five other destroyers and two seaplanes. Shore observers watched the search, heard the rumble of explosions and finally saw the whole fleet steam away to the south when the job apparently had been completed.

The attack in waters southeast of Valencia, was not far from the spot where on Aug. 31 a torpedo narrowly missed the British destroyer Havock.

Since the attack on the Havock, Italian nations, joined last week by Italy, have been attacking the Mediterranean's principal shipping lanes to prevent aerial, surface and undersea attacks such as had been made on both cargo ships and warships of nations neutral in the Spanish conflict.

ROME REVEALS SQUADRON
Rome—(AP)—Fascist aviation circles disclosed today that Bruno Mussolini, 20-year-old son of Premier Benito Mussolini, accompanied by the dove of Italy's bombardment aviation, was in active service as a pilot for the insurgent armies in Spain.

The Italian premier's son and the crack squadron of 23 bombers which accompanied him to Spain was believed to have made their first raid on the capital of the Spanish government at Valencia.

The squadron is made up of St. Marchetti 79-type fast bombers—the best the Italy has—and the pilots include veterans of Marshal Italo Balbo's mass flight to the Chicago Century of Progress and the winners of the recent Paris to Damascus to Paris air race.

The planes took off from Montecelio airport near Rome, halted at the island of Sardinia and then went on to Spain to serve in the armies of Franco.

Generalissimo Franco, who is recognized by Mussolini as head of the true government of Spain.

New Detachment Leaves
Reports from Sicily indicated that another detachment of fascist volunteers had left Spain to join Franco. This, coupled with the departure of the crack bombing squadron including Il Duce's own son, was taken by diplomatic circles to mean one of two things:

1. Mussolini has determined to make a big effort to settle the Spanish civil war in favor of the insurgents before winter sets in; 2. He has sent in more men in order to be in a better bargaining position with England and France if he finds it expedient to negotiate withdrawal of volunteers.

Il Duce has under consideration a diplomatically-worded Anglo-French note virtually demanding a conference to end volunteer aid to both Spanish factions under threat of having the French frontier opened to arms and munitions for the Valencia government.

Fascist circles in Rome heard reports of a large scale offensive to be unleashed by Franco Oct. 18, an offensive that would be measurably strengthened by the new Italian aid.

The squadron which went with young Mussolini normally includes 24 planes, but one was left behind at the Milan aeronautics show.

Mussolini Approves
Mussolini was learned to have sent 20-year-old Bruno to the Spanish civil war with his blessing. Bruno generally is pointed out as one of the foremost exponents of his father's motto, "life dangerously."

In connection with a recent exploit of Bruno's Il Duce declared: "Bruno is an idealist and I let him do what he wants. In fact, I approve of it."

The crack Italian squadron is understood to have been stationed at a flying field near Seville, Spain, which brings them within easy bombing range of both Madrid and Valencia.

The Savoia Marchetti 79-type bombers are claimed by the Italians to be perhaps the fastest in all Europe. They have a cruising radius of 62 miles and make nearly 300 miles per hour with a load of two tons of bombs.

Young Mussolini is a veteran of the Italo-Ethiopian war and was awarded a medal for his work as a pilot in the drive against Addis Ababa. He was hailed as a hero by the Italians for his part in a raid that claimed 2,000 Ethiopian lives.

Court Ponders Two Challenges

Justices, he listened gravely while Kelly and Levitt made their statements.

Kelly engaged in an exchange with Chief Justice Hughes which the later ended abruptly by an order that the attorney sit down. He had attempted to make a motion without submitting it in written form.

Finally, Kelly sent to the clerk a memorandum in longhand saying he requested a hearing on the title of Mr. Justice Black as a member of this court.

Levitt, who previously had presented a printed motion, merely asked permission to file a petition requesting the court to order Black to show cause why he should be permitted to serve. Among his contentions was an assertion that the retirement of Justice Willis Van Devanter did not create a vacancy.

Formality Prevails
The opening day of the new term was traditionally austere and new justice was as reserved as his colleagues. As he walked out, however, he smiled broadly, apparently at a remark from Justice Roberts.

Mrs. Black, who sat on the front seat of a section reserved for families and friends of the justices, was radiant. Among those who shook hands with her were Mrs. Hughes, wife of the chief justice, and Mrs. Louis Brandeis, wife of the eldest justice.

Justice Black entertained his wife and some friends at luncheon in this three-room suite in the $11,500, 000 court building. Late in the afternoon the couple were guests at tea at the home of Justice and Mrs. Harlan F. Stone.

The summer's accumulation of petitions and briefs was sent to Black's office after yesterday's session.

reduction in the number of deer because of an extensive open season in Wisconsin this year.

"In arriving at this decision I have carefully considered the studies made by the conservation department as well as other public bodies throughout the nation into the problem of maintaining deer herds."

"It seems inescapable that constant vigilance must be exercised to prevent undue depletion of deer on the one hand and on the other hand, to prevent an increase to an extent which will exceed the supply of winter forage and endanger the reforestation activities of the state and federal governments."

"The conservation commission and the conservation-minded people of Wisconsin are earnestly endeavoring to further a far-sighted and well-balanced conservation program for our state. I know that it is wholly unnecessary for me to urge that the work which is being done to preserve a natural and balanced development of our stream, forest and game resources be continued with the utmost zeal."

Roosevelt Opens Severe Attack Upon Aggressors

claration of war and without warning or justification of any kind civilians, including women and children, are being ruthlessly murdered with bombs from the air.

"In times of so-called peace, ships are being attacked and sunk by submarines without cause or notice. 'Nations are fomenting and taking sides in civil warfare in nations that have never done them harm. 'Nations claiming freedom for themselves deny it to others."

"Innocent peoples and nations are being cruelly sacrificed to a greed for power and supremacy which is devoid of all sense of justice and humane consideration."

The president, near the end of the longest and most significant speech of his current coast-to-coast trip, asserted America was "determined to keep out of war, yet we cannot insure against the disastrous effects of war and the dangers of involvement."

"We are adopting such measures as will minimize our risk of involvement, but we cannot have complete protection in a world of disorder in which confidence and security have broken down."

At another point he said it was his determination to "pursue a policy of peace and to adopt every practicable measure to avoid involvement in war."

"No nation which refuses to exercise forbearance and to respect the freedom and rights of others can long remain strong and retain the confidence and respect of other nations," he asserted.

For those who have been advocating complete American isolation, the president had this to say:

"There is a solidarity and interdependence about the modern world, both technically and morally, which makes it impossible for any nation completely to isolate itself from economic and political upheavals in the rest of the world, especially when such upheavals appear to be spreading and not declining."

"The can be no stability or peace either within nations or between nations except we adhere to all international anarchy destroys every foundation for peace. It jeopardizes either the immediate or the future security of every nation, large or small."

"It is, therefore, a matter of vital interest and concern to the people of the United States that the sanctity of international treaties and the maintenance of international morality be restored."

Happiness in U. S.
Leading up to his theme, the president told of his trip across the continent and back. He said he had witnessed many evidences of the result of "common sense cooperation" and of happiness, security and peace and could not help contrasting that with the "very different scenes in the other parts of the world."

"It is because the people of the United States," he said, "under modern conditions must for the sake of their own future, give thought to the rest of the world, that I, as the responsible executive head of the nation, have chosen this great inland city and this gala occasion to speak to you on a subject of definite national importance."

Before indicating aggressors for violations of the covenant of the League of Nations, the Brand-Kellogg peace pact and the nine-power treaty, guaranteeing the territorial integrity of China, he declared the overwhelming majority of the peoples and nations of the world today "want to live in peace."

He said aggressor nations and those fearing acts of aggression today were spending from 30 to 50 per cent of their income for armaments, as compared with 11 or 12 per cent by the United States.

The peace of 90 per cent of the world's population was being threatened by the other 10 per cent, he said at another point.

"Surely," he continued, "the 90 per cent who want to live in peace under law and in accordance with moral standards that have prevailed almost universal acceptance through the centuries, can and must find some way to make their will prevail."

Tonight, at Cleveland, he will pause to speak briefly from his private car over a national radio hookup in the New York Herald Tribune forum. Officials said he would not make a public appearance there.

Upon concluding his address at Chicago he had arranged to have luncheon at the home of Cardinal Mundelein, Catholic archbishop who has frequently called on the chief executive at the White House and at Hyde Park, N. Y.

Wants Labor Bill
Speaking before a huge crowd near his train at St. Paul last night, the president let no doubt that he was going to fight for a wage, hour and child labor bill and a farm surplus regulation measure to take the place of the "cornerstones" he said the supreme court had destroyed.

That he may call a special session in November to hasten action was intimated in an earlier address at Grand Forks, N. D., but officials said he still maintained an "open mind" on this.

"As in the case of farm legislation," he asserted at St. Paul, "a wage and hour and child labor law will undoubtedly accomplish two great purposes—first, an increase in employment, and secondly, an increase in the total of the nation's income."

As a result of both measures, he added, the actual cost of relief should decrease, and "existing taxes—not higher taxes—should make the financial problem of local and state and federal governments more easy."

"Uniform" Standards
Perhaps more significant than his reaffirmation of faith in the two pending proposals was his declaration for virtual "uniform" wage standards in all sections of the country and his fresh words of friendship for the farmer-laborites of the north central states.

He said he expected "substantial support" for the minimum wage, maximum hour bill held up in the house rules committee last session from the "north, east, west and south."

Many southerners in congress have opposed this measure. "The more I study the subject," the president told his St. Paul audience, "the more I become convinced that it does not pay any community or any region in the long-run to maintain low wage or low living standards."

Throughout the nation we are working toward fairly uniform standards of pay and work in every section in every community.

Varying Costs
The only exception to this will give some effect to a small differential based on an actual lower or an actual higher cost of living in some communities or sections as compared with the average of the country.

Evidences of continued friendliness between the president and the farmer-labor groups that supported him in the last election were given in his St. Paul address, in interviews, and in the manner in which the Minnesota leaders welcomed him.

The chief executive referred to Governor Elmer Benson as "my old friend," paid tribute to former Governor Floyd Olson as a liberal whose memory "will always be with us," and concluded by saying: "You, the people of Minnesota, have proved in the past that you favor progress and continued progress in government. You are not wild-eyed radicals. You believe in a constitutional democracy as I do."

STOPS AT MILWAUKEE
Milwaukee—(AP)—President Roosevelt's special train left for Chicago at 7:42 a. m. today after stopping 10 minutes enroute from St. Paul.

The president did not appear during the short stop at a downtown station.

United States Senator F. Ryan Duffy boarded the train for the trip to Chicago.

Governor Philip F. LaFollette of Wisconsin was at the station but did not board the train to meet the president.

The governor greeted an official stationed at the door of Mr. Roosevelt's car and was invited to come aboard. He did not do so, however, when informed the president was asleep.

LaFollette, who came to Milwaukee last night for a speaking engagement, said official business at Madison prevented him from going to Chicago, where Mr. Roosevelt

Roosevelt Address Highlights

Chicago—(AP)—Among pertinent remarks by President Roosevelt in his address here today were:

"America hates war. America hopes for peace. Therefore, America actively engages in the search for peace."

"War is a contagion, whether it be declared or undeclared."

"No nation ever loses its dignity or good standing by conciliating its differences, and by exercising great patience with, and consideration for, the rights of other nations."

"Nations are fomenting and taking sides in civil warfare in nations that have never done them any harm. Nations claiming freedom for themselves deny it to others."

"If civilization is to survive the principles of the Prince of Peace must be restored. Shattered trust between nations must be revived."

"It is my determination to pursue a policy of peace and to adopt every practicable measure to avoid involvement in war."

"The peace, the freedom and the security of 90 per cent of the population of the world is being jeopardized by the remaining 10 per cent who are threatening a breakdown of all international order and law. Surely the 90 per cent . . . can and must find some way to make their will prevail."

"There can be no stability or peace either within nations or between nations except under laws."

Rainy and Cooler, Weatherman Says
Weather Today; Temperature at 71

Rain probably will fall on Appleton and vicinity again tonight, the weatherman says, but the mild weather that accompanied it last night and stayed today will leave.

Last night's rainfall produced 41 of an inch, according to records at the Wisconsin Michigan Power company plant. For the 24-hour period ending at 9 o'clock this morning, the highest temperature in the city was 70 and the lowest 58.

An uncertain sky and a soft south wind that steadily moved the temperature up marked this morning's weather in Appleton. At 1 o'clock this afternoon the thermometer atop the Post-Crescent building stood at 71.

Following the rain forecast for tonight and unsettled conditions tomorrow, Wednesday will dawn fair, except in the extreme north portion of the state, the weatherman says.

Abilene, Texas, had 96 yesterday to lead the nation in high temperatures. Winnemucca, Nevada, scored the day's low, 24.

was to speak during ceremonies dedicating a new bridge.

A group of Democratic leaders was at the station. They included John A. Fleissner, Milwaukee postmaster; Otto LaBude, collector of internal revenue; and Henry Schwalbach, customs collector.

Settlement Made In Crash Damage Suit for $38,511
Agreement Reached Before Municipal Court Case Reaches Jury
A settlement was reached yesterday afternoon in a municipal court case in which Gordon Lathrop, Appleton, sought $38,511.18 from the Knoke Lumber company for damages resulting from a high-way accident on Highway 10 west of Appleton on Oct. 1, 1933. The settlement was reached yesterday afternoon after a jury heard testimony for two days. The case opened in municipal court last Thursday and was adjourned until yesterday.

The Employers Mutual Indemnity corporation, representing the lumber company, agreed to pay $6,500 to Lathrop for full satisfaction for cause of action against the lumber company. The Employers Mutual Liability Insurance company waived any claim it may have under the law to any award the state industrial commission may make to Lathrop for disability. The latter company had the insurance for Outagamie county by whom Lathrop was employed at the time of the accident.

Lathrop was injured while working on county machinery on the highway. He was in an accident involving a Knoke Lumber company truck.

Stanley Staidt, attorney for the plaintiff, said the total amount the insurance companies must pay will be about $22,500. This includes the $

PWA Counsel Says State Housing Law Should be Changed

Wisconsin Listed as One of 30 States With Inadequate Legislation

Post-Crescent Washington Bureau
Washington—Although Wisconsin is one of the 30 states with some form of enabling housing legislation, E. H. Foley, counsel for PWA, says that the present law is open to serious legal objections.

In a study called "Are The States Ready to Participate in the United States Housing Act of 1937?" Foley points out some of the reasons why the laws in many states, Wisconsin included, are inadequate and should be amended speedily.

Some of the changes most necessary to make the Wisconsin law so that the state can participate in the housing program are as follows: Elimination of the 2-year limit forbidding construction of housing projects 2 years after the effective date of the law.

Population Requirement
Change the population requirement that excludes all other Wisconsin cities but Milwaukee from setting up a housing authority.

Amendment of the provision requiring that rentals be sufficient to cover 3 per cent interest on total original cost, operation, and maintenance.

This provision in the present Wisconsin law, according to Foley, appears to require that rentals be sufficient to include interest on the entire cost of a project as well as pay charges for operation, maintenance and depreciation.

"Consequently," he says, "it would prevent housing from being made available to families of low incomes, because it would be impossible for a housing authority to give tenants the benefit of a federal or other grant."

The most important thing to get over in discussing the new federal law is the fact that the contemplated program under it is a decentralized one.

"Under the act," says Foley, "the federal government is essentially a financing agency through which funds are made available to the qualified borrowers and grantees."

"The responsibility for initiating, constructing, financing and operating the slum clearance and housing developments is a local one and the amount of federal willingness to assist will avail against the absence of local enabling legislation or the existence of inadequate enabling legislation."

Jew and Catholics, One a Negro, Named By Justice Black

Washington — (AP) — Associate Justice Hugo L. Black's office force is composed of a Jew and two Catholics, one of them a Negro.

This became known Monday when the justice appointed as his law clerk Jerome A. Cooper of Birmingham. "He is of the Jewish faith," said a statement issued in connection with the appointment.

Earlier Black had appointed Miss Anne Butt, a Catholic, as his secretary and the supreme court had designated Leon Smallwood, a negro and Catholic, as his messenger.

State PWA Office To be Abolished

Field Activities Will be Directed From Regional Headquarters

Post-Crescent Washington Bureau
Washington—Field activities of the public works administration in Wisconsin will be directed from regional headquarters in Chicago instead of from the state PWA office in Milwaukee, which will then be abolished, PWA Administrator Harold L. Ickes announced today.

All state offices will be closed at the end of the month, and employees of the seven new regional offices will be recruited from those now in state offices, he said.

Leo J. Voell is state director and C. T. Watson is state engineer-in-charge for Wisconsin. PWA officials here said there are eight employees in the director's office and eighteen in the inspector's department. Probably half of these will be transferred to Chicago.

Not could they say yet how many will be employed in the Chicago regional headquarters, which will have jurisdiction over Wisconsin, Michigan, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, and West Virginia. It will be known as Region No. 2.

Ickes said, however, that he expected the shift to result in "economies" in payroll and overhead expenses. There are now 6,822 employees, about 4,000 of whom are in the field.

Regional directors have not been named. No new employees will be added, the entire regional staff being recruited from the state staffs in the six states in the region.

Pegler Tells Story and Maybe It's About a Pig

New York—One day a big, fat old pig was rooting around in a potato patch, and after a while he nosed up a well, he nosed up evidence of a murder. So the pig let out a yell and ran down the road hollering, "Hey, there's been a murder. There's a guy buried over in that potato patch yonder."

Well, he was an unlikely old pig, always grunting and snuffling in a loud and unrefined manner and pushing himself forward and sounding off about what a hot shot he was, and therefore he was very unpopular personally. Moreover, he was uncommonly greedy, and he used to do all kinds of things to get more than his share at the trough, and as a result of this he became very big and strong. The bigger and stronger he got the noisier he became, and after a while he was so big and noisy that he began to think that he had a mission.

He thought of himself as a force in the world, and every now and then he would pop off with a message or a solemn warning to the universe. These messages were very pompous and silly and never aroused anything but contempt, but he was so stuck on himself that he never realized it.

Well, so on this day that he nosed up evidence of a murder in the potato patch the first man he met as he ran down the road squealing his head off was the sheriff.

But the sheriff hated the pig so much that instead of getting steamed up about the murder he said, "Yes, and what were you doing rooting around in the potato patch?" You see, he was attacking the pig's motives in discovering evidence of the murder.

He's Accused Of Just Looking For Potatoes

"I was looking for some potatoes," the pig said.

"Sure," said the sheriff. "Just as I thought. It isn't the sacredness of human life that motivated you in rooting around. Your object was to get some more potatoes for yourself."

"That isn't so," the pig said. "My life is devoted to the service of truth and justice, and I just wanted the potatoes for to give to underpaid and unappreciated servants of this great country of ours. But, anyway, what difference does it make what my motives were in rooting up the patch?"

"Go on," said the sheriff. "I don't like you, and I won't be imposed upon to serve your interests by investigating the murder," adding, legalistically, "if any."

"Why, this is terrible," said the pig, and off he ran down the road, squealing, "I will tell it to some great liberals and progressives and they will raise a hue and cry, because they are severely opposed to murder."

So pretty soon he came to a grove where a lot of liberals and progressives were having a barbecue in

Steelmakers Look For More Demand During October

September Falls Below Expectations; New Autos May Boost Production

STEELMAKERS entered October with a fair volume of incoming business and confidence for improved demand during the month, says Steel.

Although September's aggregate tonnage fell well below earlier expectations, and backlogs are considerably lighter than a month ago, several reassuring factors are noted. Foremost among these is the certainty the automotive industry soon must start buying in large quantities as 1938 model assemblies increase. To date automotive buying has been delayed by the longer than usual run on 1937 models, and in some instances by difficulties in obtaining new dies and equipment. Practically all automobile builders now are in production of 1938 models.

Consistently bright is the outlook for farm implement and equipment builders. Apparently unaffected by the post-Labor day flurry, these manufacturers' operations have held up better than those of any other important steel consuming industry and promise to continue active well into the fourth quarter.

Export inquiry remains good in most lines, such as sheets, tin plate, bars, tubular goods and semifinished steel. In addition a fairly large inquiry for pig iron has appeared at Pittsburgh.

Downward Adjustment
Dwindling backlogs and only slight improvement in new business has caused downward adjustment in operations, the national operating rate falling 2 points to 74 per cent of capacity. Pittsburgh dropped 2 points to 71 per cent, Chicago 4 points to 75.5, Youngstown 5 to 65, Eastern Pennsylvania 3 to 60, New England 10 to 65 and St. Louis 10 to 64. Cleveland made the only gain, to 67 per cent. Unchanged were Wheeling at 82, Buffalo at 74, Birmingham, Ala., at 83, Detroit at 100 and Cincinnati at 89.

Railroad car builders have light backlogs and a not too promising outlook for new business. Earnings continue to make an unfavorable comparison with last year and loadings are not measuring up to earlier expectations. Disposition of the wage and freight rate questions would help clear the way for contemplated equipment and track material buying. Rail inquiries should appear in October, although these may be delayed. Rolling of such tonnages, of course, would fall largely into next year.

Scrap prices continue to decline, falling from $1 to $2 in practically every market. In many centers this was a corrective movement to adjust artificially high nominal quotations following recessions at Chicago and Pittsburgh. Demand is light and the lower prices have been confirmed by small lot sales.

Railroad lists which will close soon are expected to indicate whether the market has reached a temporary bottom.

With the deadline on contract tin plate shipments now past, operations of tin plate mills are likely to decline slowly except in cases of mills affected by labor trouble last summer. In order to complete shipments, hot mills in some districts have been working 18 turns a week. Automobile assemblies last week totaled 44,330, compared with 28,030 the preceding week, low mark for the model change season. Chrysler produced 15,950 units, against 3075 the week before. General Motors gained 1500 with 15,500 units; independent builders had 13,780, compared with 10,955 the preceding week. Ford remained closed.

Further declines in all markets have caused Steel's scrap composite to drop 68 cents to $17.17. This is near the level at the end of June and almost $5 under the high point in April. Weakness in scrap reduced the iron and steel composite 17 cents to $39.81. Finished steel composite is unchanged at $61.70.

Enrollments in vocational education classes in public high schools will be higher this year than last when 1,382,000 youths and adults were enrolled to study trades and industries, home economics and vocational agriculture.

Best Cough Remedy Is Easily Mixed at Home

It's So Easy! Makes a Big Saving. No Cooking.
To get the quickest relief from coughs due to colds, mix your own remedy at home. Once tried, you'll never use any other kind of cough medicine, and it's so simple and easy.
First, make a syrup by stirring 2 cups granulated sugar and one cup of water a few moments, until dissolved. A child could do it. No cooking needed. Then get 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex from any drugstore. This is a concentrated compound of Norway Pine, famous for its prompt action on throat and bronchial membranes.
Put the Pinex into a pint bottle, and add your syrup. Thus you make a full pint of really better medicine than you could buy ready-made for four times the money. It never spoils, and children love its pleasant taste.
And for quick, blessed relief, it has no equal. You can feel it penetrating the air passages in a way that means business. It loosens the phlegm, soothes the inflamed membranes, and eases the soreness. Thus it makes breathing easy, and lets you get restful sleep. Just try it, and if not pleased, your money will be refunded.

Hoover Voices Plea For 'Courageous' Move

Chicago — (AP) — Former President Herbert Hoover urged Monday the Republican party propound a "positive, courageous draft of fundamental principles" as a foundation for a mid-term national party conference he has proposed for 1938.

After a conference with Colonel Frank Knox, the Republican vice presidential candidate in 1936, Hoover issued a statement saying:

"Colonel Knox and I discussed the proposal which will be before the Republican national committee of distinguished Republicans who will formulate a draft of fundamental principles to be submitted to a general conference of party leaders sometime in the spring.

"The voice of the young members of the party should be given a place in these party councils. This declaration must be positive, courageous and free from personal politics—declaration in fact that will meet the crisis in the party and the country."

DEMOCRACY IS CLUMSY

While the Wisconsin legislature may appear to be getting nowhere with Governor LaFollette's $3,000,000 relief bill it is nevertheless giving an excellent example of the working of democracy at its best. When called into special session the legislature, very properly, had before it the recommendation by the governor on the needs of relief and a method of producing the money. Since the relief problem is now in a spoty condition, with heavy demands for aid in some sections and quite satisfactory conditions in others, it was proposed by the governor that a "fire department" measure be adopted thus giving the administration control of the entire $3,000,000 to be spent as the needs arose—that is to be rushed out on call much as a fire department responds to an alarm. It was well understood that the greater part of the sum would be needed in the northern counties, which in recovery and re-employment, have not kept pace with other sections of the state.

However the Wisconsin County Boards association at its convention in Stevens Point this summer had decided to press for legislation which would give each county 10 per cent state aid on its relief bills. Once the county boards lobby got busy the governor's relief bill was quickly amended in the senate to provide the 10 per cent county allotment, leaving very little to be handled in the fire department manner. The assembly seeking to please everyone amended the governor's bill to provide 50 per cent surtax on gifts and inheritances, instead of the 30 per cent in the original bill, and then the assembly was ready to promise the county boards their 10 per cent cut, and at the same time give the governor his $3,000,000 for emergency use.

After days of arguing and dickering the senate returned to consideration of a substitute bill which is practically identical to the governor's original measure. And the battle will go on until something is agreed upon. While it may be taken without saying that many of the maneuvers in the legislature are political in the extreme, it may also be said and just as positively that the legislature is handling a problem about which there is plenty of room for discussion.

Many of the legislators have stated that there is no need for any relief legislation at this time. The County Board Association, which should be fairly representative of the state, insists upon the state paying 10 per cent of county relief bills. Delegations from Northern Wisconsin have represented their counties as on the verge of bankruptcy and in immediate need of state assistance. Some of the effect of the pleas of the northern groups has been offset by declarations by farmers in the same localities that they cannot employ help because able bodied men can do better on relief than by working on a farm.

Many points of view are held by the legislators with their attention now centered on the relief problem at Madison. They will work out something, probably not the best thing that could be done, and probably not the worst. More than likely it will be something very good. That is the way democracy works when it is permitted to function.

THE CIO PURGE

Homer Martin's difficulties with the Detroit CIO brought a six shooter from his hip pocket and an order to purge the organization of what he calls its "irresponsible elements," using the same expression Tom Girdler used in portraying the CIO itself.

CIO has discovered after a sad, tough, and costly experience that genuine Reds have no place at all in any labor movement.

Many men in the labor world have been familiar with this fact for a long time. AFL discovered it years ago, and then very deliberately and concisely, but with the firmness of steel, shoved the Reds out in a manner that never could be mistaken for politeness, and devoted continual sincere efforts to keeping them out.

A new organization like CIO might be expected to make errors but it can hardly be excused for committing such a sizeable blunder as to expect anything but damnation from the Reds if it welcomed even as some of them served their terms in state prisons or found kidnapping, burglary and bank robbing too dangerous an avocation under pursuit by G-men. CIO thought it sounded fine to invite the Reds into its ranks because a way should be opened for all workers.

The joke was that a Red is not a worker. In fact, American Reds have a record of non-dependability in labor ranks second to none.

KOURT AND KONVERSATION

Back in 1924 when the various state legislatures were planning ways and means to prevent the terroristic acts of the Klan, when even our own assembly at Madison devoted time and effort to the problem, the legislature of New York passed an act with the sublime tolerance of our American system to force the Klan "to file oath, by-laws, constitution, regulations and membership lists."

The New York Klan elected to fight even this moderate attempt at regulation.

Thus the entire matter came before the courts and finally found its way to the Supreme Court of the United States. And thus, too, was created a full opportunity for all persons involved to gather and present facts, the truth, to the court, then be done with mere charges which are often wild and unsupported.

It is a strange thing now to reflect upon the fact that the decision of the Supreme Court of the United States in that test case was written by Justice Van Devanter, whose resignation made possible the appointment of Kluxer Black.

Justice Van Devanter spent no time on frills. "The main contention is that the statute discriminates against the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan," wrote the Justice. Continuing, he pointed out that the trial court determined it was proper to put the Klan under certain restrictions because of "a manifest tendency to make the secrecy surrounding its purposes and membership a cloak for acts and conduct inimical to personal rights and public welfare."

The court likewise referred to the fact that the trial court had said of the Klan: "It is a matter of common knowledge that this organization functions largely at night, its members disguised by hoods and gowns, and doing things calculated to strike terror into the minds of the people."

With that statement of the case it became the duty of the Supreme Court of the United States to determine whether or not there was justification for the legislature to pass an act that seemed to discriminate against one organization.

Now we are getting to the heart of things. Now we have strained controversy through a wire mesh. And what do we find? This is the picture according to the coolly spoken and deliberate utterances of the Supreme Court:

"The order is a revival of the Ku Klux Klan of an earlier time, with additional features borrowed from the Know Nothing and the A.P.A. orders of other periods; that its membership was limited to native born, Gentile, Protestant whites; that in part of its constitution and printed creed it proclaimed the widest freedom for all and full adherence to the constitution of the United States, in another exacted of its members an oath to shield 'white supremacy,' and in still another declared any person actively opposing its principles to be a dangerous ingredient in the body politic of our country and an enemy to the weal of our national commonwealth; that it was conducting a crusade against Catholics, Jews, and Negroes, and stimulating hateful religious and race prejudices; that it was striving for political power and assuming a sort of guardianship over the administration of local, state and national affairs; and that at times it was taking into its own hands the punishment of what some of its members conceived to be crimes."

That is a fair and temperate picture of the Klan. If anything, it is too moderate. A man who could deliberately join such an organization might be excused for youth, or he might be excused for ignorance of the basic structure upon which America is built.

But if he were not ignorant, and if he were not young, then he has something of the fanatic about him. And fanaticism is as constructive as Paris green.

THE DUKE'S CLOTHES

In the days when the Duke of Windsor was an empire's Prince Charming, and later when he became its precedent-breaking king, many people felt sorry for the poor fellow because he was always having to dress up in costumes and uniforms peculiar to different sections of his realm. Americans could not believe he really enjoyed wearing kilts and plumes and gold braid.

Since his liberation from the thrall of kingship, however, the Duke goes right on dressing in outfits that seem designed for fancy dress balls, not for every-day wear. Pictures show him in his goings and comings among the castles and chateaux of Austria, Hungary and France dressed like a performer in an operetta.

Perhaps Edward's motto is "When in the Tyrol dress as the Tyroleans do," and so on. It may be courtesy or habit or outright preference for the fanciful. At any rate, it represents his own choice. And now let's see what he wears when he emerges from the hands of Parisian tailors.

American women who marry foreigners and then divorce them can retain their American citizenship only by complying with certain legal requirements of residence and registration.

SPORTS experts notwithstanding, your correspondent thinks that Wisconsin played a great deal of good ball against Marquette last Saturday . . . the game, however, was too hard fought to produce the smoothest kind of football . . . talking with one of the leading players on the squad after the game brought out the fact that the boys were worked up to a pitch . . . a pitched team playing against another pitched team of lesser ability will win, but usually not by a walloping big score . . . the result might have been 38 to 0 without the Badgers having made a point after touchdown and not including the times Marquette's stout-hearted defense prevented them from scoring . . . it is nice to know, however, that Wisconsin—admittedly offensive minded—produced a remarkable defense that was non-existent in previous years . . . and it may be just as well that breaks kept the score from mounting higher . . . feelings are less bruised this way . . .

Added note: it is also nice to see what the Packers have accomplished since the season got under way so inauspiciously.

A special session of congress is a sure bet, we are told. Just as we were looking forward to a pleasant fall.

There'll be no hope of a balanced budget or reduced expenditures as far as I can see. Not since FDR's trip out west.

The president found it isn't the original cost of the votes that hurts—it's the upkeep.

And if he expects to keep the farmers under his wing, he's gotta keep the checks flowing their way.

The magazine which most accurately forecast the 1936 election results, now finds that the president's popularity is slipping, and has been on the downgrade most of the year.

It might be a break if Attorney Levitt's plea to unseat Justice Black should be sustained, and the president had to appoint someone else.

But in whose favor the break might be, I don't quite know.

THE LIGHT

Last night the ship was made fast to a spile.
Four of the crew had stayed in town a while.

When they came back, a ladder was put out,
And so that they could see their way about

The Captain turned upon them a clear light.
It shone about them, climbing in the night.

That other Captain hangs, for the same reason,
His moon and stars in every changing season.

Throwing to me the ladder of true faith,
To give me courage in the face of Death.

YOU CAN'T BLAME THE COW

Personal Health Talks

BY WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.
Noted Physician and Author

ONCE IN FIVE YEARS

Newspaper clippings of items dealing with rabies, anonymously sent me from time to time, add to the conviction that rabies is a racket.

One item from a midwest rural town says the county footed a "rabies outbreak" bill of $4,410.70 for the year, comprising payment for treatment of 135 cases—cases of what, one can only infer from the context. The item says there was one fatality from rabies infection, and "the ensuing panic resulting from this death caused a great amount of our expense. Not many of the 135 were actually bitten, but were treated because of." . . . well, to make a tall story short, because of panic. But that $4,410.70 is only a drop in the bucket. Generally the people themselves pay for Pasteur treatment—unless they are paupers and seek it at public expense. The physicians in the community generally charge $50 for Pasteur treatment, the item says. So if 100 of the 135 victims of panic were treated by their own physicians, that would jump the cost immediately an additional $5000.

Another interesting item in the present collection of clippings is taken from an Eastern paper. It is merely a notice like this (fictitious names substituted for names given in item):

Al Bell's swing orchestra 7:15 . . . Frantic search of Ohio's State Police for Ernest Warcham after he had been bitten by mad dog will be dramatized at 7:30 p. m.—WKZ.

No better way to propagate panic than by dramatizing the myth over the radio. It inoculates children and childreared adults even more successfully than does the printing of ugly superstitions. One enthusiastic but inexperienced young health officer (of a W. Va. county), reproving me for my teachings, candidly explains "In W. Va. we have a hard time getting out local appropriations sometimes. . . . I have never had a serious situation in regard to rabies but I have used other epidemics to dramatize our work. I will probably always do so." Always, of course, meaning for the health director's term of office, which generally depends on the whim of the politician who happens to have control of things.

A third item is taken from an Oklahoma paper. Searched here "Neglected Dog-Bite Kills Girl." Item says ten-year-old girl complained on a Monday that she was not feeling well, but as it was four weeks since her pet Spitz had inflicted a slight wound over her left eye, no attention was paid to her complaint. "Thursday night" she said her neck hurt and she felt faint and nervous. . . . A doctor saw her late at night and finally had her admitted to a hospital at 2 a. m. but the child died an hour later. She died from rabies, the newspaper item implies. The Lord knows what the child died of, certainly no physician can tell positively and no pathologist can determine whether an illness or death is caused by rabies, for the simple reason that there is no known specific test. In my opinion the indications in at least some such cases point rather to streptococcus or tetanus (lockjaw). This child's older brother was bitten on the foot by the same dog the same day, but he immediately applied tincture of iodine to his scratch or wound and suffered no ill effects, the news item says. It was the "first rabies death in five years." Shucks, maybe it was the first in five hundred years.

Seen And Heard

In New York

BY GEORGE TUCKER

New York last night at supper our waitress said "It will cost you an extra dime if you have a second cup of coffee. The order came through this afternoon."

This, I think, was a mistake. Coffee is such an intangible part of good fellowship that it should be held apart from the ordinary, rather matter-of-fact details of a routine meal. It is, in essence, something deep and satisfying, like a handshake between friends, and should never be swallowed like butter milk or a common champagne cocktail.

Not good coffee. The drinking of it calls for a certain and very definite reverence. It should amount almost to a ritual.

Unhappily, the restaurants and cafes in New York don't seem to realize this important verity. The coffee here is generally vile and most of the cafe owners labor under the belief that to make good coffee, all one has to do is pour hot water through the grounds.

If I were commissioner of restaurants in New York I would insist on every restaurant owner (establishing his right to the trade, if he made bad coffee I would most certainly deny him a permit. For of all beverages, and this includes tea, chocolate, goat's milk, and wines, nothing can be so thoroughly exhilarating. And by the same token, so thoroughly disappointing.

Not long ago, on a private quest for the "one perfect coffee spot" in New York, we visited some 40 or 50 places. In only one was the coffee really good. Three taverns offered coffee that was drinkable. The others were so impossible that we listed them quickly in our private graveyard of places to be avoided.

So it had a rather milder effect on the evening when our waitress put a price tag on a second cup. Right then we realized that the manager who gave that order must be some benighted soul who never learned the difference between coffee and, well, say coffee.

Why is there so much bad coffee in New York? Why are there so many bad paintings and bad novels, and you are perfectly right in adding, so many bad columnists? The deficiency is by no means local. It is universal, a malady that afflicts 99 out of 100 cities. I know of only one sector where the coffee is almost always good—Louisiana.

I think if I were commissioner of restaurants in New York, I would make it mandatory for all cafe owners to visit New Orleans and take a course in making coffee. That would be doing them a favor. They would be doing them a favor, for restaurants seldom fail if their coffee is of the best. On the other hand, one bad cup is enough to drive a customer away, and two bad cups will have him earnestly imploring his friends not to go there. That is, every place but New York. If you went around telling your friends not to patronize certain restaurants in this town you would do nothing else. Of the 118,000 places in New York where coffee is made, less than 20 know what they are doing.

Hollywood News And Gossip

BY ROBBIN COONS

Hollywood—A bunch of the boys (Yacht Club) were whooping it up last night on the water, and it was a Ritz—big pardon—Yacht gathering.

The Yachtmen who never saw a yacht had returned to the movie fold. They had made another picture and were insanely submerged in their next one—especially the Yachtmen known as George Kelly, who'd made a picture because the folks thought he was clowning when he went down for the third time during a scene.

Something strange had happened. While the Yachtmen, who introduced this nutty group singing into films in "Thanks a Million" two years ago, had left town for the gay spots of New York, Florida, London and Paris, some interlopers named the Ritz Brothers (who never saw the Ritz, I'm sure) had come to town.

They had gone to town because Hollywood's Clover club wanted the Yacht boys, who were too busy making pictures but suggested that the Ritzes, then in New York, were pretty good too.

Court Song Censored
Any Yachtman will tell you that the Ritzes are fine fellows and very good friends. Any Ritz will take oath ditto. And yet the fact remains that the Yachtmen, because of their absence while the Ritzes were making "You Can't Have Everything" and other hits, are rather in the position of comebacks at their own game.

First step for them was "Artists and Models" next "Thrill of a Lifetime," during filming of which the Kelly incident nearly evened things off, three to three.

The Yacht Club Boys, individually, are Billy Mann (the blue-eyed redhead), George Kelly (the brunette who laughs loudest at the jokes), Charlie Adler (the short end), and Jimmy Kern (the juvenile and the intellectual wizard).

Kern is a Fordham law graduate, last to join the quartet. Kelly, Adler, and Mann are vaudeville graduates. Kern discourses on the psychology of comedy in his serious moments, cracks wise like the rest most of the time. All together they write the songs. They specialize in the topical satire such as that "Alphabet Song" and the "Income Tax Song."

In "Thrill of a Lifetime" they have one called "If We Could Run the Country for a Day"—but there's one couple that's been censored. It goes: "We'd dig up aine and smash him again. . . ."

It's been a long time between pictures for Fred Allen, who smashes in "Thanks a Million" two years ago. . . . He's just returned, ready to make another picture after fulfilling eastern engagements. . . . But up like many comedians, Allen didn't need a quick follow-up. My guess is he can come back "cold" and smash him again. . . .

A Bystander In Washington

BY FRESTON GROVER

Washington—The 1938 farm program devised by the department of agriculture and representatives of the industry proposes to bring farmers into compliance by offering a sort of bait instead of whipping them into line by taxation.

Doubters aptly believe that many farmers won't come in under the plan, but will go heavily into the production of cash crops which the administration is trying to control. If they should hit a year of high prices, their large acreage would bring them far more than the government bounty offered for curtailing crops.

How It Works

The department has computed the acreage it estimates should be planted to supply an ample crop of each major commodity, and yet not produce a surplus to beat down farm prices.

Take corn, for instance. The 1937 planting is estimated at 96,146,000 acres. For the 1938 program, the department has estimated 92,000,000 to 96,000,000 acres will produce enough corn. That amount is divided among states. Each state's quota is divided among counties. Within each county a committee of farmers, usually advised by the county agricultural agent, determines the quota for each farm.

If the farmer doesn't like his quota, he can stay out. If he accepts it, he gets benefits. In the 1937 program if he complied half way, he received half benefits. But if a farmer steps over the line by an acre in the 1938 program, he will lose benefit payments for several acres.

Take a corn farmer with 150 acres of tillable land. The county committee may assign him a quota of 50 acres of corn, which may be more but probably will be slightly less than his average planting. Then he may assign him a quota of 60 acres of other "soil depleting" crops such as wheat, rye, oats and barley. That leaves 40 acres he must plant to "soil conserving" crops, such as alfalfa clover. Part of this land, say 10 acres, he may be required to cover with lime, as a land restorative.

What It Pays

With that as a basis, the farmer may expect these benefits: He will get a bounty of about $1.50 an acre for his "general soil depleting" crops, such as wheat and rye. For 60 acres that brings $90. The $1.50 an acre varies slightly from farm to farm, depending on farm productivity.

For his own corn quota benefits, he will receive 10 cents a bushel. For an average yield of 35 bushels an acre on his 50-acre quota he would receive $175.

For his soil conservation acreage of alfalfa or clover, he will get 70 cents an acre, or $28 for the 40-acre quota.

That brings the total federal benefits to $293.

But if the farmer plants five acres too much corn, he will be docked five times the benefits due on five acres. On a crop of 35 bushels an acre he would lose five times $3.50 times five, or $487.50. That would be a pretty big loss. The $487.50 benefits due on his whole 50-acre corn quota.

Corresponding penalties are imposed for exceeding his quota of wheat and rye, or for falling short in his acreage of soil conservation activities.

This may sound complex to the average reader, but the average farmer is used to fiddling around with his own A.A. has taught him some bookkeeping, and other things. The department of agriculture hopes that it has also taught him compliance.

Rail Employees May Get

Free Ride on Furlough

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
Madison—Railroad employees, while on furlough, may legally be given free transportation by their employers. Attorney General Ordick S. Loomis advised the state public service commission in an opinion today.

Although the statutes and the state constitution prohibit railroads from giving free rides, there are exemptions for railroad officers, attorneys, directors and employees or members of their families.

While on furlough, an employee continues his employment relationship with his firm, Loomis pointed out, and the interstate commerce commission has made a similar ruling.

Culbertson Will Ask Two Questions a Day in Exam

Yesterday I announced the great National Bridge Examination. I pointed out that this test has been scientifically devised to make it easy for every one "to rate himself," and thus determine to which of the following groups of players he belongs:

1. Dub. 2. Weak average. 3. Middle. 4. Post-graduate. 5. Expert. 6. Master.

A word as to the first classification. Included in the dub class are not only those players who have lately taken up bridge, but the perennial dubs, players who may have had years of experience . . . in doing the wrong thing!

Now, as to this examination. . . First, I wish to point out emphatically that this is a contract bridge examination, not a quiz based on the Culbertson system, or on any other system. I shall be painstaking to guard against the use of questions that might give an "edge" to Culbertson players.

Second, I should like every reader to note that he can choose between two methods of being rated: He can either keep his own day by day score, or he can send his answers to me. At absolutely no charge to any reader of this paper, I will grade his answers for him and, when the examination is over, will (again at no charge) issue a certificate stating that so and so is entitled to master, expert, or post-graduate rating. (I am taking it for granted that dubs will not want certificates.)

The examination will take the form of two questions each day, except Saturday and Sunday. The correct answers to these questions will be given the next day. I am going to assume at the start that you, dear reader, are a magnificent player, in fact, that you rate 100 per cent. As long as you answer every question correctly you will maintain that rating. But every time you stray you must deduct the number of points marked next to the question. These will be demerits for poor answers. But don't be discouraged if you make several mistakes and have to take off points for several days running. There also will be rewards for extraordinary brilliance, so that you may earn back some of your lost points and thereby bring your eventual standing up to par. (First two questions will appear tomorrow.)

The bidding:

West opened the club king, and when declarer saw East's ten he dared not delay taking his ace. A spade was led and finessed. The heart ace was cashed, and a spade discarded. East covered, and declarer ruffed high, noting that West showed out. Another spade was led to the ace, and the diamond finesse was taken. South won both the diamond pack, cashed the ace, and threw East on lead with the diamond king. East laid down the heart king, and declarer graciously presented him with the trick, discarding a club. East was then forced to lead a heart to dummy's ten, affording declarer another discard.

Declarer's play had been good, but East's had been correspondingly bad. At the point where the heart jack was led from dummy East should not have covered. He could count that his partner, as well as declarer, was out of hearts and would be able to ruff. I grant that it was a tempting cover on East's part, but had he looked far enough ahead he could have seen what might, and did, develop.

Indian Summer Frock

For those last sunny days of Indian summer an American designer has created this flower-printed cotton frock which will make a good house-dress later. It is colored in the warm russets, yellows and browns of autumn leaves and belted in brown felt to match the belt.

Uncle Ray's Corner

The Nest of Catfish

Did you ever wonder how catfish happened to have such a name? Probably the name came from the barbels under the fish's "chin." The barbels may remind one of the whiskers of a cat.

By and by, it was found that some of the minnows left in the tank had disappeared. There was no way for them to escape, and the keeper wondered what had happened. After thinking about the matter, he began to suspect the parents.

The full-grown catfish were in the habit of "mouthing" their young. They would match up the minnows, then blow them free again. This was taken as a form of play, but study proved that some of the minnows never came out again. The parents were eating their own children! In six weeks, all the rest of the fish in the tank were gone.

Why did the parent fish care for the eggs so well, if the young were to be killed? Out in the world of Nature, young catfish leave the old ones after a short period of protection. In the tank, they stayed around too long. Another reason is that the full-grown fish were not being fed with live minnows while in the tank. The temptation to catch live food was too great for them.

Writing the Story Helps Wipe Out Self-Pity Mood

BY ANGELO PATRI

"He hit me and kicked me down the stairs and made my nose bleed, and Tommy called me bad names and he made me go back to the room, and he soaked me one behind the ear and I wanted to wash my face and just because I happened to step on his toe he soaked me and—"

"Wait a minute, wait a minute. Who soaked you?"
"He did and he didn't say he didn't, and when I was going up stairs he told me it was all my fault and when I got hold of him—"

"Simmie, sit down. Now keep still. Don't speak again until the hand on the clock touches that four. See it? Sit right there."

After the five minutes were up Simmie started again, but his wrath swept over him once more and again he shouted charges that should have placed somebody in jail, had they been anywhere near what they sounded to be.

"I'll tell you what you do, Simmie. Wash your face and hands, clean, and brush your hair. Then come back. Right in there. Yes, I'll be right here when you are ready."

It took Simmie quite a while, but when he came out of the wash room he was quieter. "Now what is it, Simmie?"
"I was coming down stairs and he soaked me—" Again rage overtook Simmie and his words tumbled over each other, something any sense they might have had.

"Here! Sit down. Write your story. Don't tell me anything more. Write it. When you have written it clearly, so you can read it to me. I'll listen. Now go ahead."

It took Simmie several days to get that composition down on paper. Finally he brought it to the desk. It was short and clear. "Tommy choked me down stairs and I poked him in the ribs. He hit me back and Mr. Clark sent us both upstairs to our rooms. I got very mad."

"Yours truly, 'Simmie.'"
I have found that it helps greatly to ask people who have charges to make against others to write them, and present them over their signatures. There is something about a written statement that makes us all stop and collect our thoughts and collecting them is such severe labor that we have no energy left for rage.

"Mr. Cocky killed my Joseph. I'll have him know he can't kill my boy. I'll have him arrested." I had seen Joseph playing at first base a few minutes before that angry mother appeared in the office, so I was not as shocked as one might suppose.

"So? He killed your Joseph. Murder is a very serious matter even when it is Joseph's murder. Mrs. Carmella, just write that charge against Mr. Cocky and we'll call the police inspector. We can't allow anybody to kill Joseph. Write it. Just how it happened. When Joseph was killed and how and who did it."

For an instant Mrs. Carmella looked at me with anger in her eye. "I looked at me with anger in her eye."

Beauty Hints Contributed By Readers

BY ELSIE FIERCE
FROM time to time readers offer valuable bits of first hand information that I am very happy to publish in the hope that it will help others. My vote of thanks today to L. S. S. who writes:

"Here's a suggestion you might publish for housewives who use washing machines.

Keeping powderpuffs fresh and sanitary is a very simple matter with a washing machine. Simply place one or more puffs inside an empty cloth sugarbag, run the open end of bag through the sewing machine adjusted to large stitches. Then put bag in the wash with other white clothes, with no further special attention except to dry thoroughly and in hot sun if possible. When bag is ripped open the puffs will be downy-fresh and sweet, like new."

And to E. W. who says: "My nose used to shine all day like the shoe-shine boy of song fame. Friends suggested a powder base, but I simply don't like the 'feel' of most powder bases on my face. Finally I was persuaded to try it on nose alone. It worked. I use just a little (readers should be warned to follow directions and not use too much or the result may be satisfactory), blend it in very carefully, blot the excess with a tissue and then powder. Incidentally is not the best type for noses that act up. A slightly heavier powder is better."

And to R. L. who advises gray-haired women: "Women with gray hair often wonder what it is that causes the yellowish streaks in their hair. I used to be ever so careful not to expose my hair to too much sun, not to sit under a too hot dryer or under a moderate drying machine. For very long. My shampoos have always been pure castile, liquid shampoos, absolutely nothing to yellow the hair, and yet there was the inevitable streaking. Recently I had my hair shampooed at a beauty parlor and the operator told me that lukewarm water must be used, never hot, as it may produce the yellow streaks. Blueing, of course, will tone down the yellow, but it's best to avoid the yellow in the first place."

Old Gardener Says:

BY E. I. FARRINGTON
There are several savory herbs growing in the garden which may be brought indoors for the winter and planted in pots or window boxes. The best herbs to grow in a window garden are mint, water-cress, parsley, chives, sweet marjoram, basil and the rose geranium. They should be transferred indoors before freezing weather. The potting soil should consist of one part sharp sand, one part well-rotted cow manure and two or three parts of good garden loam. A very small quantity of bone meal may be added. The soil should be mixed thoroughly and screened through a coarse screen. If a window box is used, it should be at least six inches deep with an inch layer of broken stones in the bottom for drainage. Pots should be at least six inches in diameter and should have bottom drains. The plants should not be crowded and should be watered a little every day.

(Copyright, 1937.)

And then she grinned. "Well, maybe not killed, but he made him stay after school to do work over and I need Joseph in the store."

Whenever you feel much abused just sit down and write yourself a letter about it and if a grin doesn't wipe out the black mood of self-pity. Write out the story. You'll see it as it is!

Mr. Patri will give personal attention to inquiries from parents and school teachers of the care and development of children. Write him in care of this paper, inclosing a three-cent stamped, addressed envelope for reply.

CROCHETED LACE HAS BEAUTY, THRIFT

The wife who meets her husband with a snarl when he comes home after a hard day's work, and who never says a kind or pleasant word to him, but insults and abuses him; the wife who is whining and complaining and who reproaches her husband with not being able to make as much money as some other man does; the wife who belittles her husband in the presence of others and who throws cold water on all of his hopes and plans; the wife who teaches her children to treat their father with contempt, does not think of herself as a murderer. But she is one never the less.

There are plenty of men who never show their wives any tenderness or affection or do anything to make them happy. Plenty of men who never speak to their wives except to find fault with them. Plenty of men who make domestic slaves of their wives and never give them a penny of the money they earn by doing the work of half a dozen servants. Plenty of men who make marriages so hard and joyless to their wives that they are glad to lie down and die.

It is a terrible thing for men and women to take the lives of others into their hands, as they do when they marry, and if they fail to do all they can to make those lives happy they have committed the unpardonable sin. They have taken something from their husbands and wives far more precious than life itself.

Dear Miss Dix—I am a girl of 16 and have a very strict mother. She will not permit me to play any games or take part in any sports. She objects to all of my company and forbids my going out with my girl friends without her. She won't let me read books that she considers trash. She doesn't want me to go to the public high school for fear of danger. I can't even look at a boy. She doesn't trust me alone and watches me like a cat. She says the sooner I get married the better off she will be. I have a girl friend who is in the same boat, and everything we do is done by sneaking.

DESPERATE.

Answer: I wish I knew some way to make mothers like your see that in being overstrict with their daughters they are taking the surest way to bring about the disaster they fear.

Perhaps in medieval times, when they had dungeons cells, it was possible to lock a girl up in one and keep her from ever seeing a boy or going to a party or playing a game or reading a book or having any touch with the world. But these are modern days, in which we live mostly in flats, in which we have not even a closet that we can spare to lock our daughters up in. When boys and girls go to school together and play together from the time they are born, and in which there are so many books and magazines that no mother could censor them all even though she read twenty-four hours a day, and in which youth has emancipated itself, the heavy mother and father stuff is as extinct as the dodo. So it is worse than folly for any mother to think that she can keep her girls from taking part in the life that goes on all about them.

It simply can't be done. Girls are not only going to be girls, but they also are going to do more or less the things that all the other girls are doing. When Mother refuses to let them have their company at home and go to night parties and have a reasonable amount of liberty, they simply bootleg their pleasures instead of having them openly and honestly under Mother's eye.

You can't keep a girl good by watching her, because the strictest chaperon will not at times and, besides, every child is foxy enough to outwit its parents. Lock a girl in and she will climb out of a window to meet pick-ups on the street corner. Forbid her to go to parties and shows that other girls go to with their dates, and she will lie about spending the night with a girl friend and go away no one knows where or with whom.

The surest way in the world to make a girl boy-crazy is to forbid her asking lads to the house. That way you give her the lure of forbidden fruit that every woman's mouth has watered for from Eve on down. The way to make a girl run off and get married in her teens is to make home a prison that she will break out of at any price. And a mother simply puts a premium on deceit when she is so stern that her daughter has to lie to her to save herself from punishment.

The only chaperon that any mother can provide for her girl now is to make her her own chaperon. Teach her from her cradle up good principles. Teach her modesty and self-respect and you won't have to watch her. She will take care of herself. DOROTHY DIX. (Copyright, 1937)

My Neighbor Says—

If shrubs are transplanted now, bonemeal should be spaded into the earth in which they are planted. Winter snows will wash the bonemeal into soil and shrubs will be in this way nourished.

Black lace may be washed and still look new if washed in a solution of one tablespoon of ammonia to one cup of coffee.

When ironing men's soft collars iron on a Turkish towel doubled four times and they will iron much easier.

Plant large tulip bulbs from 4 to 6 inches below the surface of soil and 6 inches apart. Mix a small handful of bonemeal in the soil in which the bulb is planted. Cover lightly before freezing weather sets in. (Copyright, 1937)

GOOD TASTE TODAY

BY EMILY POST

HAVE SHOWERS GONE TOO FAR?

Dear Mrs. Post: I was invited to a shower several weeks ago. Being sick in bed gave me a good excuse. I did not want to accept. The shower was given by the girl's aunt, whom we have known for years, but not intimately, and I felt that it was an imposition for her to expect me to buy a present. Now my daughter, who is just home for the weekend, tells me that my being sick was no excuse for not sending a present. Is this true? And if it is, I don't know how an ordinary family's budget is to be balanced with these everlasting showers, which seems to be increasing every day.

Answer: It is never necessary to send a present unless one goes to the shower. One may, of course, send one if one particularly wants to but it is not expected.

Dear Mrs. Post: Recently one of the women in the organization where I am employed resigned her position to become a mother. As she had been employed here for a number of years, we took up a collection and bought her a lovely gift. Today one of the girls in the office brought down a stack of shower invitations, which were written by the mother-to-be's sister. They weren't even personally addressed, that is all of them came in envelopes without any names on them. None of the girls in the office, with the exception of the one who brought down the invitations, knows the sister, who is giving the shower. Don't you think this shower giving has gone too far? But what can we do less than donate again?

Answer: Read the answer to the foregoing letter. It is not at all necessary that you accept the invitation.

Dear Mrs. Post: Don't you think that something ought to be done about limiting the value of shower presents? After all, shower presents are not supposed to be the same as wedding presents, and many of the bride's friends are unable to give handsome shower presents, and then a nice wedding present besides. The other afternoon I went to a shower for a girl we all know well, and most of us gave her very small presents such as a few dish towels, a saucer, a sugar spoon, etc., and then others (who are in no better financial circumstances than we are) gave her really valuable gifts which made ours seem mean when put on display beside them.

Answer: I agree with you that shower presents ought to be small ones, and these other presents should be given to her at some other time. Judging by several hundred letters similar to these, it would seem that the shower question is becoming a serious one, and I do think it is a pity to let the spontaneous lightness of a friendly gesture become a burdensome obligation. ## James Melton, Popular Tenor, Will Give First Concert of Artist Series

FIVE OUTSTANDING ATTRACTIONS have been secured for this season's concert on the Lawrence college Community Artist series which opens Nov. 10 at Lawrence Memorial chapel. The first concert will be given by James Melton, popular singer of stage, screen and radio, and others to appear here are Harold Bauer, pianist, on Dec. 3; Stephan Hero, violinist, on Jan. 10; Lawrence A Capella choir on Feb. 16; and Rose Bampton, Metropolitan opera star, on March 24.

James Melton, the handsome young tenor from Georgia, who has won laurels in the field of radio, cinema, and concert, has been called the "logical successor to McCormack." He has the same ingratiating qualities of the famous Irish singer. The voice is a pure, lyric tenor of wide range and unusual flexibility. It is used with the sureness indicative of the true artist.

Mr. Melton's repertoire, furthermore, covers a wide field of French, German, Italian, and English songs, which he sings with as much ease and artistic success as he does "The Isle of Capri." In opera, he has at his command the leading tenor role in "Madame Butterfly," "Traviata," and "Manon."

But whether in concert, opera, on the screen, or on the air, he is first and last himself—tall, handsome, easy in manner—and a proof of the slogan "The voice with the smile wins."

The second concert, set for Dec. 3, will present Harold Bauer, pianist, well-known to all music lovers. Mr. Bauer made his American debut in 1901 as soloist with the Boston Symphony orchestra. Since then he has appeared with every orchestra of note in this country and Europe, and his name alone is sufficient to conjure to the minds of thousands of admirers memories of unforgettable art.

Stephan Hero, rising young violinist, and son-in-law of Jose Hurlb, the famous pianist-conductor, will appear on Jan. 10. Commenting on Hero's solo appearance with the National Symphony orchestra of Washington, a critic said: "His tone is large and holds that something not learnable, which gives pleasure to the heart. He played the Brahms' Concerto with musically rounding out of phrase and with clear technique, which was not troubled by the demands upon it."

The Lawrence A Cappella Choir, a favorite number for several seasons, will appear Feb. 16 under the direction of Dean Carl Waterman. Winning new laurels in their last season's concert tour, which included a concert at the Goodman theater in Chicago, the choir received warm praise of which Herman Devries' comment in the Chicago American is typical: "Everything that makes a choir perfect is embodied in this remarkable group, which must surely receive wide recognition at a time not far distant."

The final concert of the series is dated for March 24 and will introduce Rose Bampton, star of the Metropolitan opera, to Appleton. Miss Bampton made her debut at the Metropolitan five years ago, and although one of its youngest stars, is now heralded as one of its greatest; she possesses a beautiful mezzo-soprano voice of phenomenal range and presents a program of great artistic variety.

Tickets for the series will go on sale at Bell's drug store Thursday morning, Oct. 7.

Parties

A group of Appleton and Neenah people attended the silver wedding anniversary celebration of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Acker, Nahma, Mich., formerly of Appleton, last Saturday night in Nahma near Escanaba. A buffet supper was served and dancing followed. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Peter Berringer, Mrs. W. F. McGowan and George Acker, Jr., Appleton; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Roubush, Neenah; Miss Sylvia Roubush, Neenah; and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Roubush, Menasha.

Friends surprised Mr. and Mrs. Al Klug at a housewarming in their new home at 1706 Rose street last Thursday night. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. M. Vanderheiden, John Berringer, Mr. and Mrs. Al Klug, Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Twarz, Mr. and Mrs. John Gemeinweiser, Miss Grace Prentice and Jack Hopfenaefer.

The weekly contract bridge tournament will be held at 7:30 this evening at Conway hotel. No reservations are necessary, according to Mrs. N. J. Wilmet, who is in charge of the tournament.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Riska, 1711 N. Meade street, were hosts to a group of friends in observance of their first wedding anniversary at the home of Mrs. Riska's father, Henry Mentzel, route 3, New London, Sunday afternoon and evening. Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Riska, Appleton; Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Riska and family, Gillett; Mr. and Mrs. Merle Plowman and daughter, Maxine; Sylvester Le Beau and Miss Lucille E. Beau, New London; Henry, Meta and Alvin Mentzel, Northport.

Christian Mothers society of St. Therese church will hold an open card party at 2:30 Wednesday afternoon at the parish hall Mrs. Frank Schneider and Mrs. Harvey Kuttner are co-chairmen.

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Ryan, daughters, Louise and Doris, and sons, David and Scott, Jr., and Howard Ruth were guests of the Rev. and Mrs. R. H. Spangler, 922 W. Winnebago street, at dinner last evening in honor of the Ryans' departure on Thursday for their new home in Los Angeles, Calif. Today the Ryans were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Eads, 114 N. ### APPEAR ON COMMUNITY ARTIST SERIES

Two singers, a violinist and a concert pianist comprise the talent which will be brought to Appleton this season on the Lawrence college Community Artist series. The group above includes James Melton, upper right, who will sing at the chapel for the opening concert on Nov. 10; Harold Bauer, upper left, pianist who will play here Dec. 3; Stephan Hero, lower right, violinist and son-in-law of Jose Hurlb, the famous pianist-conductor, who will appear Jan. 10; and Rose Bampton, lower left, star of the Metropolitan opera, who will give the final concert of the series March 24.

Appleton Girl Scouts Get $1,700 in Campaign

SEVENTEEN hundred dollars has been turned in by solicitors in the financial drive conducted by Appleton Girl Scout council as the result of last week's work on the drive. The clean-up drive is being held this week by the council members and will end Friday when Mrs. Fred Heinritz and Mrs. E. C. Hillfort, co-chairmen of the campaign, will be at the Girl Scout office from 1:30 to 5 o'clock in the afternoon to collect money from the solicitors.

The monthly meeting of the Girl Scout council will be held at 9:30 next Tuesday morning at the office when a complete report of the financial drive will be given by Mrs. Heinritz.

Girl Scout troops, Brownie packs and Marine ships will get into full swing this week and next when their groups organize for fall activities. The Bluebonnet troop of Edison school held its first meeting yesterday, at which four Brownies were made honored members of the troop in a "fly up" ceremony.

Brownies who have completed all the Brownie requirements and have been awarded their "Golden Hands" are privileged to "fly up" to girl scouting. The girls who received the honor were Louisa Younger, Alice Ann Hammer, Carol Bush and Aurelia Seyfert. These girls received Brownie wings which they wear on their girl scout uniforms.

Only five other girl scouts have received "fly up" wings. They are Katherine Mary Benton, Joan Kurlay, Mary Ellen Kools, Charlotte Nemachek and Nancy Schuetter.

The Jefferson school troop and Roosevelt Seventh grade troops will have their first meetings this afternoon at the schools. The Wilson troop will meet Wednesday at the

Cyrus Daniel Speaker at Club Meeting

"THROUGH music as a language a composer speaks what he hopes will be understood," Cyrus C. Daniel, professor of theory and composition at Lawrence Conservatory of Music, said in a talk on "Music as a Language" before the Cadence club Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Ralph J. Watts, 742 E. John street.

Prof. Daniel explained that any language is based on an alphabet and some form of grammar, and pointed out that music has notes, scales, intervals and chords, with their modifications to produce melody. He compared commas, semicolons, periods and paragraphs in language to rests, pauses and cadences in music.

As a literary writer develops his story, Professor Daniel continued, so a musician uses his musical ability to draw out melodic material to the utmost, by adding and subtracting from the basic melody. He drew a parallel between a narrative and a suite, exposition or debate and the sonata form, fugue and symphony, description and a tone poem.

In closing the speaker said that if one looks at music in this simple way, listening for its grammar and vocabulary, one's appreciation widens. He illustrated his various points on the piano, playing parts from Beethoven, Schumann, Mozart, Schriabin, and Liszt, and using some common hymns and folk music. He closed with one of his own compositions.

Mrs. J. W. Robson was admitted as a new member to the club. The next meeting will be in two weeks at the home of Mrs. Charles Flory, 415 E. Circle street.

"Hands Across the Ocean" is the subject of the program to be given by Mrs. W. S. Ryan at the meeting of Tuesday Study club Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. H. J. Sears, 602 N. Center street. Roll call will be answered with missionary scripture verses.

The first meeting of Lady Eagles for the fall will be held at 2:30 Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. George Hogreiver, 345 W. Prospect avenue. Cards will be played.

Mrs. Myra Hagen, River drive, was hostess to Phi Mu alumnae at a dessert meeting last night at her home. Eleven members were present. In two weeks Mrs. H. J. Weller, 908 N. Rankin street, will entertain.

Christoph Shifts Rockets' Forward Wall for DePere

Injuries Necessitate Revamping of Neenah Front Line for Tilt

Neenah—With two of his regular linemen on the injured list, Coach George Christoph is in the process of revamping a new forward wall for Neenah's third conference game with West DePere Saturday afternoon at West DePere.

As he sent his men through heavy workouts this afternoon the grid mentor said that Neenah is still in the running, and, he added, "the stage is set for the season's biggest upset with the Red Rockets pulling the surprise."

Several members of the West DePere eleven, which holds a share of first place in the conference race with Shawano, both teams having won two straight games, scouted the game and saw Neenah get whipped by Shawano last Saturday 25 to 0, the coach reported.

"Neenah made a poor showing in the Shawano game which undoubtedly left the West DePere gridders with the feeling that the Red Rockets would offer them a 'breathing spell,'" the coach reasoned.

Line Weakened
The loss of Co-captain Dale Dodge, regular tackle, and Vanderwalke, guard, has weakened the Neenah line considerably. The center of the line had been the weakest spot anyway, and the mentor is having a difficult time plugging the gaps with experienced men.

The coach is experimenting with various combinations in forward wall berths during the current practice sessions with hopes of uncovering likely candidates for the vacancies.

When Vanderwalke broke his collar bone during the first half of the Shawano game the coach had to send inexperienced men into the line, and Shawano kept smashing at the weak spots.

Both Dodge and Vanderwalke are expected to return to the line-up before the season is over. Dodge's knee injury is responding to treatment, it was reported, and Vanderwalke's fracture is not serious.

Until Vanderwalke's injury, in the Shawano conflict, the Red Rockets were holding their own, making two first downs in the first quarter.

Y. W. C. A. Group Says Neutrality Law Should be Applied to Conflict

Neenah—Weighing the arguments for and against applying the United States neutrality law in the Chinese-Japanese conflict as discussed in a release from the National Council for Prevention of War, the Y. W. C. A. group today at the Y agreed that the answer to all arguments is "apply the law."

Mrs. Clarence Brendick, acting chairman, was in charge of the meeting. Other members of the committee, not all of whom were able to attend, include, Mrs. R. E. Sanders, Mrs. Eric Gummerson, Mrs. Dan Price, Mrs. Elizabeth Mott, Mrs. Kenneth Harwood, Mrs. Ray Donahue, and Mrs. Carl Zietlow.

The reasons for not applying the law, either given or implied, have been, according to Florence Brewster Boeckel, associate secretary of the council, that the Japanese attack is not a war against the Chinese government, that application of neutrality would lead to a blockade of Chinese ports by Japan, that American lives in China would be endangered, that the United States government is committed by earlier policies, the open door, to a line of action with which neutrality is not compatible, that application of neutrality would turn the trade of China and Japan, perhaps permanently, to other countries, and that the present blockade is not legal since there has been no declaration of war.

Arguments for application of the law were discussed by the members of the committee as 1-The neutrality policy is the law and invariable application of the law determined in advance of any given situation alone frees it of the implication of favoritism which the law was passed in order to avoid.

2—There are only two possible choices, application or acceptance of the possibility, of ultimate war, the present middle of the road policy opens only one of the alternatives—war.

3—The first object of the law was to protect this country against policies and incidents which, as proved by World War experience, lead to war, such as continuation of private trade for war profits, destruction of American ships and lives.

4—The law was applied to the Italian-Ethiopian and Spanish conflicts, and failure to apply where our interests are more directly involved is to proclaim that our chief concern in world affairs is financial gain.

5—Invariable application of the law leading to certainty on the part of all nations that the United States cannot be looked to for any support in war would serve as deterrent.

Neenah—Defeating the Shamrocks two games out of three, the Pintas retained their lead in the Knights of Columbus bowling league Monday night at the Neenah alleys, having won seven games against two losses.

William Ryan annexed the high series honors when he rolled games of 210, 138 and 244 for a total of 592. His 244 was second high individual game, also.

M. Jeske hit high individual game with 252 as well as took second high individual series with 252, 162 and 171 for a total of 585.

The Marquettes topped high team game and series with 1,152 and 3,303 and the San Pedro's hit second high team game with 1,088, and the Pintas hit second high series with 3,155.

Twin City Relief Costs Total Over $2,300 Last Month

$300 Increase in Neenah; Slight Rise at Menasha In September

Menasha—Relief costs for the Twin Cities increased over $300 for the month of September as compared with August, according to the figures released by H. M. Bishop, Twin Cities relief director, yesterday afternoon. Total costs for the two cities amounted to $2,382.40 as compared with $2,018.03 a month ago.

Costs for the city of Menasha showed only a slight increase while those of Neenah increased over $500. The total number of people receiving relief dropped from 226 to 218. Costs of food, clothing, medical expenses and miscellaneous accounts increased to account for the raise.

In Menasha total expenses amounted to $1,381.52 compared with $1,323.33 the month before. Administrative costs amounted to $241.64 of the amount. In Menasha 27 families, consisting of 94 people, and 20 singles were given help.

Food Costs Top List
An itemized account of the expenses for Menasha includes food, $362.52; shelter, $141; clothing, $27.53; fuel, $20.28; public utilities, $14.62; medical, including drugs, dental, hospitalization and one burial, $269.14; other counties, $10.39; administration, including supplies, salaries, mileage and rent, $241.64, and work relief, $284.40.

The number of people receiving aid in Neenah increased by 10. Twenty-six families, consisting of 91 people, and 13 singles received aid as compared with 94 people the month before. Medical expenses increased over $100 to a total of $318.67.

In addition the Twin Cities relief office handled one relief case, consisting of six people, for the town of Neenah. Food expenses amounted to $14.78 and administration to $3.19, a total of $17.97.

Mr. Bishop indicated that relief costs probably would continue to rise during the winter with the let-down in seasonal employment and the uncertainty over the future of the WPA.

ARREST MENASHA MAN
Menasha—John Mansavage, Second street, was arrested by the Menasha police yesterday upon charges of stealing a coat from a car at Antigo. He was turned over to Carl Monroe, deputy sheriff of Langlade county.

Laemmrich Pin Squad Takes 1st Place in League

Wins Twice From Record; Standard Oils Drop Two Games

Menasha—The Laemmrich Funeral Home team climbed into first place in the Catholic men's bowling league at the Hendy alleys last night by winning two games from the Menasha Record. The Standard Oil team, which had shared first place, dropped into a tie for second when it dropped two of three games to the Broadway No. 2 team.

A 546 total with a top game of 202 by McKellip led the funeral home team to its victories over the Records. Borenz had a 220 game and Powers a 214 for the losers. The game scores were 990, 937 and 903 for 2830 for the Laemmrich team and 909, 886 and 844 for 2739 for the Menasha Records.

Sam Kraus hit a 560 series with a top game of 211 but the Standard Oil team dropped its series to the Broadway No. 2 team. The game scores were 1,002, 922 and 869 for 2793 for the oil team to 856, 949 and 909 for 2,714 for the Broadway team.

The Wiegand Builders took two out of three games in their series with the Broadway No. 1 team, a 560 series and 208 game by Voelke topping their efforts. The builders' total scores of 944, 819 and 903 for 2726 while the Broadway team had a 2,561 total on games of 833, 824 and 904.

J. Oberweiser had two games over the 200 mark as his Shell Oil team won two out of three from the Tuchscherer Shoes. Game scores were 898, 944 and 923 for 2,765 for the oil team and 913, 891 and 899 for a 2,703 total for the Shoe team.

Tonk Club performed the only sweep of the evening, taking three games from the Ben team. R. Stilt had the high game of 236 while a 209 count by N. Foley led the losers. The first game was a tie and necessitated a roll-off. Game scores were 882, 885 and 946 for 2,713 for the Tonk Club and 882, 880 and 803 for 2,615 for the Ben and Bens.

Noffke and Kroiss Builders won two out of three games from the Yankee Paper company team. Scores for the builders were 867, 1063 and 824 for 2,714, 811, 859 and 806 for a 2,543 total for the paper company team.

The standings:

Laemmrich	9	3	560
Standard Oils	8	4	.687
Noffke and Kroiss	8	4	.687
Wiegand Builders	8	4	.687
Shell Oils	6	6	.500
Broadway No. 2	6	6	.500
Menasha Records	6	6	.500
Tonk Club	5	7	.417
Tuchscherer Shoes	5	7	.417
Yankee Papers	4	8	.333
Broadway No. 1	4	8	.333
Ben and Bens	3	9	.250

Menasha Lions Told To Serve Community

Menasha—Pointing out that service to the community came first and cautioning members against becoming a "knife and fork" club, E. W. Mackey, Manitowish, district governor of the Lions club, addressed the Menasha Lions club briefly at their meeting Monday night at the Memorial building.

He complimented the Menasha club highly, saying that it ranked among the leaders in the state. Cooperation of the local club in the dinner to be given by the Kaukauna Lions club Nov. 23 in honor of Frank Birch, head of Lions International, at the Rainbow Gardens at Appleton was requested. He also called the attention of the club to the state convention at Marshfield in May.

The appointment of Allen Hoffmann, Menasha, as a zone chairman was announced by Mackey. His zone includes the Menasha, Neenah, Wautoma, Oshkosh and Appleton clubs.

Alvin Landig has been named treasurer of the local club. Formerly both the duties of secretary and treasurer were fulfilled by Claude Mayer. Mayer will now act as secretary only.

NYA Funds Allotted to High School Students

Menasha—Thirteen students of the Menasha high school are receiving NYA assistance in order to enable them to attend school, according to O. F. Johanson, who has charge of the NYA activities for the high school. The maximum aid, according to national regulations, is $5 a month. An allotment of $80 a month for the present year has been made by the National Youth Administration for Menasha high school students.

A number of boys are employed in various buildings helping the regular janitorial staff in cleaning of the classrooms. One boy delivers mail to the various teachers. Another assists at the gymnasium in the checking of equipment.

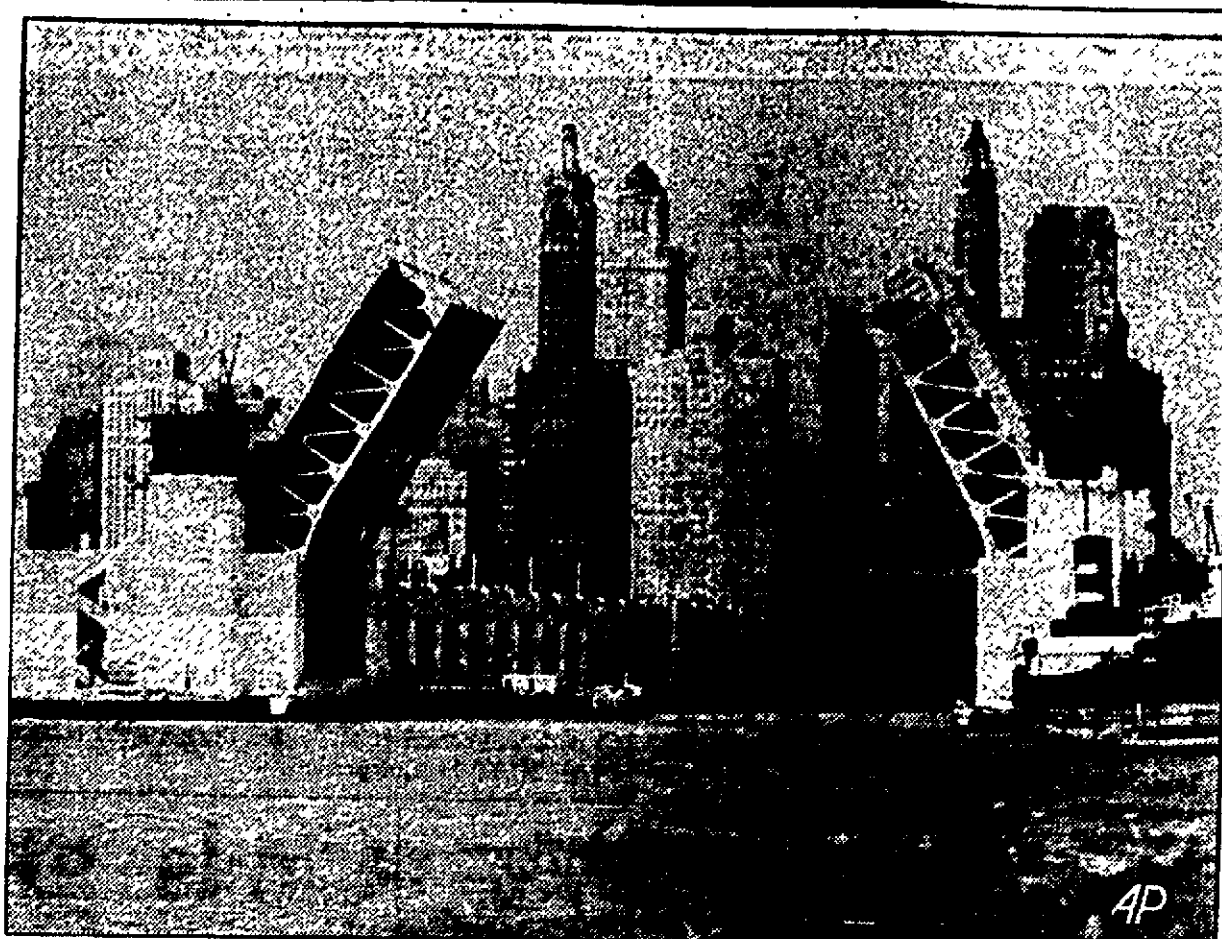

The girls are employed at various positions. Several are employed in the office doing typing and checking supplies. One is working in the city library helping to keep all the books straightened on the shelves and replacing returned copies.

Neenah Lad Scalded By Kettle of Hot Soup

Neenah—Eugene Meyer, 12-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. William Meyer, Greenwald avenue, Neenah, suffered severe burns last night as a kettle of soup spilled on him. The boy was scalded from the waist down. He was reaching for a match box which was on a shelf over the stove when the buckle on his belt caught the kettle of soup which was cooking on the stove.

Neenah Personals

Mrs. Donald Dahl, 129 Second street, Neenah, was admitted to Theda Clark hospital last night for treatment.

PRESIDENT TO DEDICATE CHICAGO LINK BRIDGE

President Roosevelt will pause in Chicago on his return to Washington from a journey to the West coast to dedicate the bridge linking the north and south outer drives across the Chicago river, allowing high speed traffic to travel along Lake Michigan's shores from the far south to the far north sides of the city. Chicago's skyline is shown here between the upraised spans of the bridge.

Over 260 Persons Enroll in Neenah Evening Classes

Neenah—More than 267 persons enrolled in classes at the opening of the Neenah Vocational evening school Monday night, according to Carl Christensen, director.

The number enrolled in each class is as follows: Typing 46, shorthand 26, bookkeeping 11, English 10, clothing 17, women's gym 28, men's gym 20, cooking 12, machine shop 14, cabinet making 16, drafting 27, German 17, metal crafts 14, arts and crafts 11. Several persons also enrolled in the parliamentary law course.

Other persons sought to enroll in courses which are not offered. All the classes except arts and crafts and parliamentary law will meet again Thursday night.

Three Cases Involve Twin City Residents

Menasha—Three Twin Cities cases are among the six cases set for trial on the October calendar of civil cases in municipal court before Judge Henry P. Hughes. The dates for trial include Jaeger-Dowling company against Morgan Jorgenson, Oct. 22; W. J. Morgan against The Larson Bottling Works and Travelers Insurance Company, Oct. 21; and A. E. Sawyer against the Neenah Building Company, Oct. 22.

Other trials set for October include Wisconsin Cooperative Milk Pool against Ray Washatka, doing business as Park Falls Creamery Company, Oct. 26; Wisconsin Cooperative Milk pool against Ernest Fisher, doing business as Harmony Cheese factory, Oct. 27; and Adam Benner against Lawrence Ruhnke, Oct. 28.

Three Men Fined for Speeding at Menasha

Menasha—Charged with speeding 60 miles an hour on Plank road, two men were fined $10 and costs each in justice court last night by Justice of the Peace Arthur Ales. The men were Leonard Olson, Menasha, and Milton Sager, route 1, Appleton.

A fine of $5 and costs was assessed Robert Ginkey of Oshkosh by Justice Ales for speeding 45 miles an hour on Plank road. The arrests were made by the Menasha police on Sunday.

Trial was set for 7 o'clock Wednesday evening before Justice Ales for Harry McFarlane, Oshkosh, who was charged with speeding 45 miles an hour on Appleton road by the Menasha police. McFarlane entered a plea of not guilty and contended that he was outside the city limits when the arrest was made.

Twin City Deaths

MRS. MARGARET SORESENSEN—Neenah—Mrs. Margaret Sorensen, 75, 512 E. Franklin avenue, Neenah, died Monday at Mercy hospital, Oshkosh, after a lingering illness. She had been confined to the hospital since July 15.

Mrs. Sorensen was the widow of Louis P. Sorensen, who died Oct. 3, 1922. Survivors are two brothers and three sisters, all of whom live in Denmark. Mrs. Sorensen was born in Denmark and came to Neenah at an early age.

Funeral services will be held at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon at the Charles Sorensen Funeral home and interment will be made in Oak Hill cemetery. The body will be at the funeral home Wednesday afternoon until the time of the services.

Menasha's Drill On Pass Defense

Prepare for Homecoming Tilt at New London Friday Night

Menasha—Somewhat downhearted and stiff from the bruising battle they lost to West De Pere Friday night, the Menasha high school football team started preparations for the game at New London Friday night. The game will feature the homecoming celebration of Washington high school.

Practicing yesterday was light consisting of limbering up exercises, running a few plays and short session on pass defense. The Bluejays will probably stress pass defense this week as they expect Coach Stacey's men to toss numerous aerials in scoring attempts.

Several changes are likely in the Menasha lineup. West De Pere made most of its gains around the right end of the Menasha line and Coach Calder will probably experiment on that side in practice this week. The choice of plays in the game against the Phantoms likewise was open to criticism and the signal calling duties may be shifted.

Despite the strenuous contacts of the game with the Phantoms, all the members of the Menasha squad were out for practice yesterday. Kolanski and Henk particularly were shaken up in the game but were ready for action again. The return of George Shaw, out with a knee injury since early in the practice season, has strengthened the club and he will probably be inserted at a tackle post.

Menasha Postoffice to Assist in Job Census

Menasha—Postmaster Joseph R. Coyle yesterday received notice from the United States postal department that the Menasha post office will assist in registering the unemployed during the survey which will be held to determine unemployment conditions throughout the nation.

The letter stated that card questionnaires would be mailed to the local post office. These questionnaires are to be stored until plans for taking the census have been made and sent to the cooperating post offices.

Recruits Sought for Army and Navy Units

Menasha—Young men between the ages of 18 and 25 are being sought for enlistment in the army and navy, according to a communication received by Postmaster Joseph R. Coyle from the recruiting office at Milwaukee.

Enlistments are being particularly sought for the motor truck sections in the army. Any persons interested may communicate with the recruiting station at Milwaukee or at Oshkosh, according to Mr. Coyle.

Says Albino Robin Seen at Menasha Is Regular Resident

Menasha—The albino robin seen by Mrs. J. W. Emerson at her home on Winnebago avenue Sunday was not a transient on his way south but a Menasha resident, according to Mrs. I. M. Catlin, 414 Elm street. Mrs. Catlin said that a robin with a white spot on its tail had made its nest in an apple tree in their yard this summer. The bird laid three eggs. Two young hatched and grew to maturity. One was almost entirely white while the other, probably the visitor to the Emerson home, had white feathers on its head and wings. The Catlin children fed the birds during the summer.

Dancing Classes Held At Neenah High School

Neenah—Miss Grace Breiterreiter, girls' physical education instructor at the Neenah High school, is currently conducting social dancing classes for students. The boys have already attended two classes, and the girls one. Group instructions are being taught now with the girls in one group and the boys in the other. After a few weeks of instructions the groups will be mixed. The social dancing courses were started at the high school three years ago and have been popular with the students.

Board May Act on Bids For School Equipment

Menasha—Samples of materials offered by bidders on equipment for the new Menasha High school were examined by the board of education at its meeting at the Jefferson school last night. The monthly meeting of the board will be held at the Jefferson school tonight, at which action will probably be taken on the bids.

Mayor Held to Resume Duties at Council Meet

Menasha—For the first time in two months, Mayor W. E. Held will preside at the meeting of the common council at the city hall at 7:30 o'clock tonight. The mayor has been ill with pneumonia and a nervous breakdown but has now recovered. Affairs of the street committee, including the opening of the new street between Appleton and DePere streets from Sixth to Seventh streets, will be among the chief items to occupy the attention of the council.

Clintonville Man Denies Driving While Drunk

Waupaca—Clarence Schoenick, 25, bartender of Clintonville, who was arrested by Earl Polzin, Waupaca county traffic officer, at 2 o'clock the morning of Sept. 30, and who appeared before Justice of the Peace E. E. Larson of Clintonville at 10 o'clock Friday morning, pleaded not guilty to a charge of driving while intoxicated although admitting he took eight or ten drinks of whiskey. He will appear before Justice Larson again on Oct. 6.

Appleton Principal Is Armistice Day Speaker

Menasha—H. H. Helble, principal of the Appleton high school, will be the chief speaker at the Armistice Day program at the Brin theatre Nov. 11. The assembly program will be in charge of the American Legion.

Boy Scout Troop Will Start Safety Program

Neenah—A safety program will be started at tonight's meeting of the St. Margaret Mary church's Boy Scout troop, according to Scoutmaster Arthur Kessler. The meeting will be held at the church. Election of new patrols will also take place and new members will be enrolled.

The saying, "For want of a nail the shoe was lost," etc., usually ascribed to Benjamin Franklin, was in print a hundred years before his time.

Dim Lights for Safety

Agricultural Committee Seeks Data On Drought Relief in Waupaca County

Waupaca—At a recent meeting of the agricultural committee of the county the drought situation was thoroughly discussed, and it was recommended that County Agent George F. Massey secure all available information on what help is available from federal sources, and also to make efforts to secure whatever aid can be obtained for the county from these sources.

The Bang's disease situation also was under discussion. Of the 741 herds tested by Massey he reports that 45 per cent are affected by the disease. The federal government allows between $38 and $40 per head for each animal slaughtered because of Bang's disease, and this amount is received by the farmer in addition to the market price of the animal, the quality of the meat not being affected by the disease, which permits of its being sold for food.

The county already has spent $6,000 in making the tests which costs the farmer but 20 cents per cow. The board of supervisors will again be presented with this problem when they convene in November.

It was also decided to call a joint meeting of the agricultural committee together with the county potato dealers in an effort to work out a plan whereby the necessary good seed might be obtained for county growers for another year. Referring to the situation in Portage county where that county has made an appropriation of $5,000 for the purpose, placing the funds in the hands of the county agent who in turn buys good seed potatoes and sells them to the growers, L. W. Eastling, chairman of the county board, made the statement that "dealers heretofore have handled this situation and should again be able to handle it without county aid". Eastling, an old-time potato man, says "while good seed is essential, cooperation with dealers is very essential".

The county bull program as outlined by county bankers together with the Livestock Breeders' association, was explained and commented upon. Under a plan of financing a herd sire improvement program for Waupaca county dairy herds, herd sires are purchased and financed by the county banks and the bulls rotated in a program designed to improve production records.

The joint meeting as planned by the committee will take place some time next week, it being postponed until then because of the absence from the city of County Agent George F. Massey, who is attending the annual conference of county agents being held in Madison this week.

Members of the agricultural committee are L. W. Eastling, Manawa, chairman of the county board; Reid Murray and C. H. Bacher, Waupaca; William Brandenburg, Marion, and William Kramer, Fremont.

I LEARNED TO BEAT ACID INDIGESTION

ONCE LIFE WAS MISERABLE, NO APPETITE... LITTLE SLEEP... UNTIL THE DOCTOR SAID 'ALKALIZE'

BUT NOW—AT THE FIRST SIGN OF ACID-INDIGESTION I USE PHILLIPS' AND I FEEL LIKE A NEW PERSON ALMOST IMMEDIATELY!

The fastest way to "alkalize" is to carry your alkali with you. That's what thousands do now that genuine Phillips' comes in tiny, peppermint flavored tablets—in a flat tin for pocket or purse. Then you are always ready. Use it this way. Take 2 Phillips' tablets—equal in "alkalizing" effect to 2 teaspoonsful of liquid Phillips' from the bottle. At once you feel "gas," nausea, "over-crowding" from hyper-acidity begin to ease. "Acid" headaches, "acid breath," over-acid stomach are corrected at the source. This is the quick way to ease your own distress—avoid offense to others.

Hubbell and Gomez Expected to Hurl Opening Series Contests

Battle of Ace Southpaws Would Be Hurling Classic

EXPECT 50,000 FANS

Manager Terry to Make Several Shifts in Lineup

BY GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK—(AP)—The Giants and the Yankees, both fit and both confident they hold a fistful of aces, hold their final workouts early this morning, and at 12:30 p. m. (CST) tomorrow they smack into each other in the second straight "subway series."

Two more substantial, complete ball club probably never met in a world series since the annual fall follies were inaugurated in 1903. Neither appears to be unduly excited nor awed, but just the same, the series promises to be hard-fought and exciting every foot of the way.

The battle lines are definitely drawn, pending a last-minute change by Manager Bill Terry of the Giants or Joe McCarthy of the Yankees. Carl Hubbell, the Oklahoma farmer, will try to win his third straight series opener for the Giants, and Gomez, another leftist, will toil for the Yankees.

They are perhaps the leading southpaws in the game, and the prospect of a thrilling duel between them had led optimistic club officials to hope to break the world series attendance record of 66,669 set at the stadium a year ago. Indications today, however, were that the opening day attendance would not be much more than 50,000.

Selkirk recovered from the Yankees' lineup is settled for the series with the same array that swamped the American league under a deluge of base hits, except that hard-hitting George Selkirk has recovered from a mid-season hurt just in time to take over his right field post. He, with Joe DiMaggio, Lou Gehrig and Bill Dickey, comprise the backbone of the Yankees' devastating attack.

The Giants, who are the weaker hitting outfit and therefore compelled to consider every possible angle in their struggle for runs, will do considerable shifting about. Against Gomez tomorrow they will have big Hank Leiber, right-handed power hitter, playing center field and batting clean-up. When Red Ruffing, a right hander, takes the hill for the Yankees in the second tussle, Lou Chiozza will be in the middle pasture for the Giants, with Jimmy Riddle batting fourth.

Terry, who has so far recovered from his influenza that he took a few cuts at the plate in yesterday's practice, has delegated the veteran Gus Mancuso to catch both Hubbell in tomorrow's game and Slim Melton in the second game. Harry Danning is slated to catch Hal Schumacher in the third.

All of which indicates the essential difference between the two New York teams. The Yankees are set to slug it out on their customary lines. The Giants are going to play it "cute" and fight for a run a time, placing their trust in Hubbell, Melton and Schumacher to curb the enemy.

Chicago Bears Trim Pirates in Pro League Tilt

Continue Winning Streak By Taking 7-0 Measure of Pittsburgh

PITTSBURGH—(AP)—Chicago's undefeated Bears fashioned a quick scoring thrust on the end of an 82-yard third period parade last night for a 7 to 0 triumph over the Pittsburgh Pirates of the National Professional football league.

Starting on their own 18 after throttling a Pittsburgh drive, the Bears battered their way downfield with Bronko Nagurski doing the heavy work.

Then a 30-yard pass from Bernie Masterson to Bill Karr was good on Pittsburgh's 12 and Ray Nolting circled left and untouched, Jack Manders placekicked the extra point.

The Pirates penetrated deep into scoring territory three times and outgained the visitors 374 yards to 261.

Powerful plunging by John Karcis and a 19-yard pass from Max Fiske to Clarence Thompson put Pittsburgh on Chicago's 15 in the first half, but a try for field goal fizzled.

A crowd of 22,511 saw the contest. First Downs Even. First downs were even at 11. The lineups:

Chicago LE Brett Hammond, LT Sandberg, RT Forman, C Kakasie, RG Bausch, R. Thompson RT Karpovich, Karr RE Breiden, Ronzani QB Zaninelli, Nolting LH Davidson, Manders RH Haines, Nagurski FB Weinstock.

Score by periods: Chicago 0 0 7 0—7, Pittsburgh 0 0 0 0—0.

Chicago scoring: touchdown—Nolting. Point after touchdown—Manders (place kick).

Substitutions: Chicago—ends, Manske, Wilson, McDonald; tackles, Trost, Bjork; guards, Zeller, Bell; center, Sullivan, Konkright; backs, Doehring, Masterson, Betttridge, Feather, Rentner. Pittsburgh—ends, Sorlet, Carr, Siles; tackles, Holcomb, Nicolai, Billock; guards, Kakasie, Mayhew, Kleslin; center, Raborn; backs, Karcis, C. Thompson, Gudea, Fiske, Smith, Blood.

Referee—E. F. Hughtiff, Buffalo; umpire—Harry D. Robb, Pittsburgh; linesman—James D. Durfee, Columbus; field judge—Carl K. Rebele, Pittsburgh.

Foxes, Trucks to Clash on Gridiron

Merrill and Clintonville Teams Will Show Friday Night

Clintonville—Fromm's Silver Foxes—no the silver-tipped neckwear for midday's winter protection against squalls, but rather, a basketball squad—Friday will invade the Central Park athletic field for a contest with the FWD Trucks. The game will be held under the Goodlights at 8 p. m.

Fromm's Foxes, hailing from Merrill, is a tough squad, the Trucks, an old hand. In 1935, the Merrill eleven led the Green Bay Packers to a 14 to 0 score in a furious classic.

Fresh from a 0-0 contest at Portage Sunday, the Trucks this week will under Coach Burdette Ace and his assistants. With only a month of practice behind them, the Trucks are polishing their technique in anticipation of meeting the Foxes on Friday.

On Friday, Oct. 15, the Trucks play hosts to the Green Bay All-Stars at Central park gridiron, and on Sunday, Oct. 31, the Sturgeon Bay eleven is scheduled to come here.

Meanwhile, Manager Bob Olen is negotiating with teams from Manitowish and Kenosha, to fill out a good series of home semi-pro games.

Bills and three Johns, and two each of Joe, Frank, Roy, Ray, Dan and Tom. One boy answers—shly—to the name of Reginald.

Five Years Ago—New York Rangers sold goalie John Ross to Detroit hockey team.

Chaff'n Chatter

By Gordon R. McIntyre

THAT veteran old prognosticator, Hilbert J. "Kelly" Weller, takes the week's honors in our football score guessing contest as we get through checking the returns. He picked 15 winners of the 20 and had one perfect score, Northwestern 33, Iowa State 0.

Weller and three other persons picked 15 winners each but, as we said, Weller wins on the basis of one perfect score. The other three guessers who were tops were Nick Biersiek, Little Chute, Howard J. Gerow, Kaukauna, and Donald E. Rogers, Appleton. And picking 15 winners out of 20 is a pretty fair task in any league and we wish we could reward all of the folks.

The response to the first week's contest was really excellent considering the lateness of the list. So we expect that this week's list will draw an even larger number of guessers.

Naturally the week's upsets and such resulted in many guesses that went wrong. Only one person, Howard Gerow, called Nebraska to beat Minnesota but he figured it would be a 7-6 game. Packer fans responded by picking the big Boys over the Lions and some had almost the correct Packer score.

Lloyd Bodoh, New London, picked West Green Bay correctly over LaCrosse, 13-0, and Fred Buss picked Appleton perfectly over Sheboygan. Albert Van Alpen, Kimberly, came close on Michigan State over Michigan when he picked 18-13 against 19-14, while Eugene Backes had Northwestern-Iowa and St. Norbert-Milwaukee Teachers within a point of correct.

Dan Steinberg, Jr., came closest on Kaukauna over New London, 20-6, but he muffed badly on Appleton high. Herbert Gossens, Kimberly, missed by a point on several scores while there were many persons who saw Ohio State over Purdue and Marion over Clintonville. Richard Novakowski did very well in calling Kaukauna's 22 points over New London but missed on the New London score.

And below you'll find another list of 20 games. The idea is to pick as many correct scores as possible and the prize will be a ticket to the Appleton-Fond du Lac game at Whiting field, Oct. 16. Don't forget your name and address and get the blanks in the mail so they are postmarked before 6 o'clock Friday night or in the Post-Crescent office before it closes at 7 o'clock Friday night.

Mrs. Page Favored to Annex National Title

Memphis, Tenn.—(AP)—The favorite's role in the national women's amateur golf tournament belonged today to Mrs. Estelle Lawson Page, long-hitting Greensboro, N. C., veteran and medal winner the past two years.

The tarheel favorite was the only one to break 80 over the rain-soaked Memphis country club course yesterday, posting a par 79 for the 6,440-yard layout.

Her first round opponent today was Marian Leachman, Berkeley, Calif., girl who left her law studies to bid for national golf fame in this event. Miss Leachman reached the title bracket after a playoff against other golfers having medal scores of 93.

Patty Berg, Minneapolis' freckle-faced stroker, and Mrs. Gregg Liffur of Pacific Palisades, Calif., scored 82's and were second to Mrs. Page in the opening test.

Thil Match Sought For George Black

Milwaukee Boxer Ranked Third by Boxing Association

Milwaukee—Climbing rapidly as a result of his recent showings against Dave Clark, Jack Gibbons and Babe Risko, George Black, Milwaukee, although a middleweight, is now ranked No. 3 among light heavyweight contenders by the National Boxing commission. Holman Williams, Milwaukee Negro, rates fifth among the welterweights.

Milwaukee promoters are now attempting to arrange a match here between Black and Marcel Thil of France, who recently lost his claim to the middleweight crown to Fred Apostoli in New York.

Tiger Jack Fox and Al Gainer are rated ahead of Black in the light heavyweight list. Others among the first 10 are: Gus Lesnevich, Eddie Weinstob, Fred Lenhardt, Benito Romero, Oscar Rankin, Dave Clark and Jack Gibbons.

Reach Quarterfinals in Girls' Net Tourney

Elhel Melcher yesterday defeated Margaret Albrecht to go into the quarterfinals in the Appleton High school Girls' Tennis tournament at the high school. She will battle Doris Grimmer today for semifinal recognition.

Florence Stadler won over Peggy Ogilvie and will meet the winner of the Betty Roemer-Patricia Byrne match today. Edwina Abel defeated Ruth Merwaldt and now has a quarterfinal bye.

50 Youths Working With Soph Gridders

A squad of approximately 50 youths who'll be Appleton High school footballers in another year or two, is working out almost every evening at Jones park learning the fundamentals of the sport. Plans also are being made for a couple games for the youngsters.

Harvey Gygi is working with the line candidates and Marvin Babler with the backs. The boys are learning fundamentals such as blocking, tackling, carrying the ball and use of the stiff arm and charging from line positions. Each program is opened with setting up exercises.

ALTHOUGH dropping two games to the Beaters last night, the Brackets retained first place in the Riverside Bowling league at the Arcade alleys. Printers won three straight to take over second position.

W. Centner smashed the wood for a 225 game and 567 series to pace the field in individual effort while the Machines cracked out a 2,609 series to pace the teams. A 916 high single team game was rolled by the Brackets.

Werner led the Brackets to their 2-game win over the Beaters with a 209 game and 561 series. A 200 game was rolled by Westberg for the Brackets. Reese shot a 200 game and 513 series to pace the Beaters.

Three games were won by the Printers over the Cutters to take over second position in the league standing. V. Grunst smashed the tenpins for a 527 series to lead the Cutters while Centner's 567 total was high for the Printers.

The Rulers cracked out a 2-game win over the Banders. C. Schroeder hit the pins for a 524 total to top the Rulers and a 205 game and 554 series rolled by R. Kochl was high for the Banders.

Executives dropped three straight to the Machines who were led by H. Kirschenlore who shot a 209 game and 547 series. A 509 total rolled by R. Crolleau was tops for the executives.

Auburn Battles Tulane To 0-0 Tie on Wet Field

New Orleans—(AP)—Auburn and Tulane suffered Southeastern conference championship blisters today when they battled to a scoreless tie on heavy turf in a football game postponed from Saturday.

Two days ago the playing field was under three feet of water and while the flood had been pumped away the going was so treacherous neither team could get a sustained drive going.

Auburn threatened twice with attempted field goals and once the Tulane Greenies worked the ball from midfield to nine yards from pay dirt only to see the Auburn team punt on a gallant goal line stand that turned back their heavier foes.

Sheboygan Youth Signs Contract With Dodgers

Sheboygan—Joe "Chuffy" Weiss, one of the best catchers developed in this baseball section, has been signed with the Brooklyn Dodgers. Weiss, the outstanding catcher in the City Amateur league for the last few seasons will play Class B baseball next year for the Dodgers farm club, probably the Clinton, Ia., team of the Three-Eye league. Joe is 21 years old, weighs 178 pounds and is five feet, eleven inches tall. His batting average is over the .300 mark for the last few seasons, which he played with the Bottoms Up club, state amateur champions. His record shows only two errors this season.

Illini Pointing For Tilt Against Fightin' Irish

Layden Fears Upset; Illinois in Secret Practice This Week

BY EARL HILLIGAN
CHICAGO—(AP)—A perfect "upset setup" had Elmer Layden admittedly worried today.

His Notre Dame Irish will go against Illinois at Champaign next Saturday. On paper, the Irish are doped at least two touchdowns better than Bob Zuppke's eleven, Notre Dame having whipped Drake handily last Saturday as the Illini were being held to a scoreless deadlock by DePaul.

That's why Layden, putting his squad through a long drill on fundamentals yesterday, also tossed in a warning for good measure. He told his players that Zuppke has been "pointing" for Notre Dame since training started weeks ago; he told them he wasn't satisfied with the blocking and tackling against Drake; and he intimated that with games ahead against Carnegie Tech, Navy, Minnesota and a few others, a leadown Saturday might prove as disastrous for the Irish as the Nebraska game did for Minnesota.

"Shoot The Works"

Zuppke swung his squad into a week of secret drill, and it's certain the Illini will "shoot the works."

Purdue, awaiting Carnegie Tech's invasion, suffered a blow when it was learned that Jim Zachary, flashy pass receiver, had pulled a tendon in his left ankle and will be out of action about three weeks. Indiana, preparing for their journey to battle Minnesota, worked on pass defense and Coach Bo McMillin said he noted improvement in the work of the Hoosier secondary.

Francis Schmidt, giving his Ohio State Buckeyes little chance to congratulate themselves on having whipped Purdue, put his players through a long drill featured by passing. The Buckeyes, 27 strong, will leave Wednesday for the west coast and Saturday's tilt with Southern California.

Although Michigan lost to Michigan State Saturday for a fourth straight year, Wolverine morale was far from low as Harry Kipke sent his squad through a long workout. The Wolverines who met Northwestern Saturday at Evanston, are not conceding a thing to the champion Wildcats. Northwestern drilled on pass defense.

Coach Clark Shaughnessy ordered daily scrimmages for his Chicago Maroons, who will have trouble here Saturday with Wisconsin's likely-looking Badgers. Minnesota's first stringers were excused after a short limbering up session and a look at motion pictures of the Nebraska battle.

Nine Class Champions Named in Three Sports

Nine class champions, three in golf, three in tennis and three in horseshoe have been named at Appleton High school and now are competing in their respective sports for the school titles.

Everett Leonard, Look What These Guys Think Of Your Golfing Family

SAN FRANCISCO—(AP)—The six golfing Leonard's of Wisconsin, who challenged any other playing combination to a team match, can start firing any time now. They've got a bout on their hands with the five Fry boys of California.

Earl Fry of the Alameda, Calif., municipal links chips in with this acceptance:

"We are anxious to play the six Leonard's. While there are only five Fry's, we will spot them the extra man as a handicap, and if they have a couple of cousins they want to use it will be all right with us. We'll play the match by mail or

Carls and Vikes Here Saturday

Marquette Will Face Arizona Next Season

Milwaukee—(AP)—Athletic Director Conrad M. Jennings released today Marquette University's 1938 football schedule, featured by three inter-sectional games with Southern Methodist, Texas Christian, and Arizona, and the annual battles with Wisconsin and Michigan State.

The complete schedule follows: Oct. 1, Wisconsin at Madison; Oct. 8, Southern Methodist in October; Oct. 14, Kansas State in Milwaukee; Oct. 22, Texas Christian in Milwaukee; Nov. 5, St. Louis University in St. Louis, Mo.; Nov. 12, Michigan State in Milwaukee; and Nov. 19, Arizona in Tucson.

Game Will Feature Dad's Day; Highs Going to Manitowoc

LIFE promises to be just one tough football game after another for Lawrence college and Appleton High school elevens this fall.

Lawrence returned to the practice field last night after its defeat at Cornell college and if the Vikes had an idea the workout would be light, they had another guess coming. There was no letup of any kind and they went right to work on fundamentals and covered almost everything in the book.

The Carleton game here is next on the list and is to be celebrated as the feature of a Dad's day program. The fathers will be feted Friday evening at the various fraternity houses and will attend classes Saturday morning and a convocation program. In the afternoon there'll be the football game.

Although disappointed over defeat at Cornell, Coach Paul Derr doesn't feel that the bottom has fallen out of things. The Vikes played pretty fair ball during the first quarter, he said, and then the 84-degree-in-the-shade temperatures started to tell and the men wilted badly.

However, Derr did say that the tackling wasn't of the shoestring variety and the line forgot to charge but he expects to get that out of the boys by next Saturday.

Albert Novakowski pulled a muscle in his side and how serious the injury is a question. Aside from that there were no hurts except bruises. Maertzwiler wasn't used although they rounded up a suit for him. When the squad got to Dubuque Friday afternoon Joe's suit was missing having been left at the gym in a locker.

Vande Walle and Masterson, the former with a bad ankle, the latter with a freshman-sized ear, didn't see any action either but should be ready this week.

Appleton High school draws Manitowoc in a gem there on Saturday. It will be the highlight of the Shipbuilder homecoming and the lake shore team will be primed and rested for two weeks. It didn't play Saturday.

The homecoming angle, the official welcoming of Catches Paetoli and Guepe and the hopes of a fair season have Manitowoc generally on edge this week and Appleton will find the squad a tough one to beat. The Ships opened conference play with a surprise win over Oshkosh two weeks ago and they liked the idea so well they plan for another victory this week.

Seniors Defeat Sophs To Win Softball Title

The senior softball team of Appleton High school yesterday whitewashed the sophomore squad, 5 and 0, to win the school title. The seniors have three straight wins to their credit and defeated each of the teams entered. Hieble hurled the plate while Blecher tossed for the sophomores with Bernger behind the rubber. Intramural points will be awarded to the winning team.

B. D. M. Golfers to End Thursday Play

The Thursday golf program at Butte des Morts club will come to a close this week when the faithful gather for another round or two of play. A match between the doctors and the lawyers is in the making but the lawyers claim the doc's haven't enough talent.

Another feature of the afternoon's play will be awarding of final prizes for the season's effort. In the evening there will be the usual buffet luncheon and cards.

White Sox Manager May Take Active Part in City Series

Chicago—(AP)—Jimmy Dykes, whose White Sox open a series with the Cubs for the city title at Comiskey park tomorrow, will take an active part in the proceedings if needed—but he's hoping he'll be able to do his "master-minding" from the dugout.

Dykes, whose ailing legs kept him out of action most of the regular season, announced recently he would be at third base, but he's changed his mind. Tony Piet will be stationed at the "hot corner," with Dykes holding himself ready to sub at first base for Zeke Bonura recovering from a groin injury.

Manager Charlie Grimm of the Cubs announced he will use Phil Cavaretta at first in place of Ray Collins, who since suffering a fractured ankle has not shown much either at a fielder or hitter. Grimm intends to pitch Tex Carleton in the opener of the best four of seven games skirmish, with Vern Kennedy expected to do the chucking for the favored Sox, victors in 14 of 20 past city titles scrambles.

DOESN'T SOUND LOGICAL
New York—(AP)—Brooklyn's Dode today traded four players—Outfielder Johnny Cooney, Second Baseman Jim Bucher, Third Baseman Joe Stripp and Pitcher Roy (Ben) Shaw to the St. Louis Cardinals for Shortstop Leo (Lippy) Durocher. No cash was involved.

Badgers Lose Fourth End As Wegner Leaves School

MADISON—(U)—Ed Wegner, of Cudahy, sophomore end on the University of Wisconsin football squad, has dropped out of school but will return again next semester. Coach Harry Stuhldreher said yesterday.

Wegner suffered a slight concussion in the first week of practice and has been out ever since. He is the fourth end to be lost this season.

The Wisconsin reserves were given a stiff offensive scrimmage yesterday, but the first stringers had a comparatively easy session. Ken Bellie and Lowell Schoengarth, halfbacks, broke away for several big gains, even though the field was slippery.

The Wisconsin coach had Bob Eckl, Milwaukee; Ralph Moeller, Watertown and Vince Cibic, Milwaukee, all sophomores, booting

VIKE GRIDDERS TO MEET CARLETON SATURDAY

Lawrence college gridders this week are getting down to the hardest work of the season as they prepare to battle Carleton college eleven here Sunday afternoon in the highlight of a Dad's day program at the college. Carleton probably is one of the toughest teams the Vikings will meet this season and a poor showing before a bunch of proud fathers doesn't go hand in hand at all. The four Vikings above are, left to right, Roger Fischer, a center, Ken Buesing, a halfback, Ken Westberg, fullback, and Bill Lohr, halfback. Westberg is from Menasha, Buesing and Lohr from Appleton. Marek Given Pre-Nod In Scrap With Thomas
Chicago—(U)—Max Marek, young Chicago heavyweight, will rule a 6 to 5 favorite to whip Harry Thomas in a 10-round bout which will open the Chicago stadium's fall and winter season tomorrow night.

Thomas, formerly of Eagle Bend, Minn., and now living here, was examined yesterday by a physician who said an eye cut Thomas suffered recently will not keep him out of action. The state athletic commission will recognize the winner as Illinois heavyweight champion.

County Baseball Loop Will Banquet, Oct. 18
Senator Mike Mack of Shiocion and presidents of the villages represented in the league, will be speakers at the Outagamie County Baseball league's banquet Monday evening, Oct. 18, at Black Creek auditorium. Teams in the league are Hortonville, Shiocion, Black Creek, Dale and Greenville Merchants and Grangers.

The league championship series will open next Sunday afternoon when Dale clashes with the Black Creek team at Black Creek.

Budge Turns Back Riggs And Retains Net Titles
Berkeley, Calif. — (U) — Donald Budge is still the world's greatest amateur tennis player.

The lanky Oakland, Calif., red-head turned back a stirring challenge by young Robert Riggs of Los Angeles yesterday, 4-6, 6-3, 6-2, 6-4, to retain his men's singles crown in the Pacific coast championships here.

Riggs upset Germany's Baron Gottfried Von Cramm in the semifinals.

Drop Plans for High School Rifle Shoot
Because a fee is charged this year for the use of the rifle range at Armory G, the high school rifle club will not organize this term, school officials said today. It had been planned to practice at the armory and then to conduct a small bore rifle shoot outside before the cold weather for the high school marksmanship title.

BUNTS

THE AMERICAN LEAGUE—WHOMEVER HEARD OF IT!

IN 1904, Boston, American league winner, challenged the New York Yankees, National champions. The reply by Giant Manager John McGraw that he did not wish to "endanger the standing of my team by sending it against a minor league club," almost precipitated a war. Magnates agreed to an annual post-season series to effect a truce.

Newark Defeats Red Birds Again Bears May Tie Up Little World Series With Columbus

Columbus, O.—(U)—The Columbus Red Birds, champions of the American association, had somewhat of an inkling today of how and why the Newark Bears, their opponents in the little World series, won the International league flag by a 25 1/2 game margin.

After winning the first three games of the minor league classic at Newark, the Red Birds had an idea that the "best of seven" series was in the bag. But the Bears bounced right back Saturday night to beat the Birds 8 to 1 on the local lot and last night they did it again 1 to 0.

The birds still are leading, three games to two, but after getting but one run in the last 19 innings, and with the prospect of facing Vito Tamulis, Bear pitcher who won 18 and lost 6 during the regular season, the home town boys aren't so sure Newark won't tie it up tonight.

Atley Donald, tall right-hander who won 19 and lost two during the International loop runway, and then was batted from the hill by the Red Birds in the sixth frame of the second game of the series, halted Columbus with three hits last night to gain the set's first shutout. He needed the shutout, too, for Max Macon, the eccentric left-hander, allowed the Bears but one run.

PLAY FOR CHARITY
Milwaukee—Charity will profit when the Marquette university football team engages the Santa Clara Broncos, Sugar Bowl champions and conquerors of Stanford, at Soldier Field in Chicago on Saturday afternoon, Oct. 30. The game will be played for the benefit of the employees' voluntary welfare fund of the Chicago Park district.

Michigan State Grid Star Out for Season
East Lansing, Mich. — (U) — Herman Kiewicki, sophomore quarterback and of the Michigan State college football team, suffered a leg fracture in the last play of Saturday's game with University of Michigan and will be out for the season. The seriousness of Kiewicki's injury was not known until X-ray pictures were developed.

10 Per Cent Increase in Baseball Attendance During 1937

BY ALAN GOULD
New York—(U)—Major league baseball attendance for the season just closed showed a 10 per cent increase over last year's figures, and was within striking distance of all-time records.

Semi-official compilation today by the Associated Press disclosed a grand total of 9,447,497 fans passed through the turnstiles of the 16 American and National league clubs.

This compared with an aggregate of 8,585,000 in 1936, hereby producing a total increase of 862,497.

The all-time "high" was reached in 1930, when the total attendance for the two major circuits reached 10,186,000.

The most striking feature of this year's showing is that the Detroit Tigers, second place club in the American league, set the attendance pace, with a total of 1,181,000. This was a record for home game attendance in the motor city and exceeded by nearly 40,000 the home game figures for the world champion New York Yankees. Hitherto the undisputed No. 1 drawing card.

In the National league, where only half the eight clubs registered increases, the champion New York Giants and second-place Chicago Cubs came closest to the million mark with 991,097 and 950,000, respectively.

Start Badminton Meets At Appleton High School

Three badminton matches were played yesterday to start the Appleton High school badminton tournaments in the school gymnasium.

Woodrow Coon defeated Donald Klapstein in the first sophomore tournament match and Zelle won over Wulgart in the junior division. Zelle will meet the winner of the Hein-Fruet match, which will be played today. Morris yesterday defeated Black and Spencer to go into the semifinals in the senior division. When the schedule is played, class champions will meet for the school title.

Endeavor Society in Meeting at Appleton

Leeman—The Young People's Christian Endeavor Society of South Maine Church of Christ was entertained Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Ashtou at Appleton.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Strong spent Sunday at the home of the latter's parents Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Colson in Denmark.

Reyma Leeman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Leeman, and Vincent Zehrn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Zehrn, of Leeman, both students at Shiocion High school suffered broken arms while taking part in athletic activities at school one day last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Merlin Beyer and son Dale of Milwaukee spent the weekend at the homes of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Planer and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Beyer.

The Rev. and Mrs. P. W. Martell sons Ronald and Junior of Green Bay were dinner guests Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Johnson.

The Young People's Christian Endeavor society of the Congregational church met Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Olson. Services were conducted by the Rev. E. Seger, a social hour spent and refreshments served. Those present were: the Rev. and Mrs. Seger, Embarras; Leonard Wahlfors, Clarmen Larson, Louis Rasmussen, Ernest, Otto and Emil Fredrickson, Royal and Leroy Marks, Navarino; the Misses Esther Amundson, Helen Dowler, Johanna and Dolores Westrog, and Marion Dixon, Galesburg; Mrs. Claude Nelson, Dorothy Leeman, Mrs. Thomas Wilkinson, Jr., Arthur and Esther Olson, Merle Nelson, Nelda Leeman, Virginia Schroeder, Mable and Marjorie Wilkinson, Sylvia Hall, George Olson, Ruel, Kelly and Billy Falk, all of Leeman.

Papa DiMaggio Brings Joe Cakes, Cookies From Home

BY PAUL NICKELSON
NEW YORK—(U)—The proudest and most excited man in this big city today was an old, weather beaten sailor who traveled clear across the continent to see a guy named Joe play in the world series.

His suitcase crammed with mama's famous cookies, cake and several bottles of wine, Joseph DiMaggio, Sr., made his first trip to New York in 41 years with only one bit of sightseeing on his mind.

"That," he said, "is to see my boy Giuseppe hit a home run against the Giants."

If you've ever seen an aged father glow over the exploits of a son, then you've got the picture of Papa DiMaggio. In more than 25 years of fishing off San Francisco bay, he's had more than his share of thrills but to come to New York, all expenses paid, to see Giuseppe strut his stuff before thousands of cheering fans tops Papa's wildest dreams.

Papa arrived yesterday morning accompanied by his third son, Dominic, star outfielder of the San Francisco Seals who hopes to emulate his more famous brothers, Yankee Joe and Vincent, who did a fine job his first year up with the Boston Bees this season. Joe met them at the station, dined himself on the cookies and cake, and then took them out to Yankee stadium for the series practice.

"This," said the amazed papa DiMaggio as he entered Yankee stadium, "is a great park. And a big one, too. Giuseppe, how can you hit home runs in a place like this?"

"I just swing, Pop," laughed Joe. Papa DiMaggio, who last saw New York in 1896 when he came over from Palermo, Sicily, retired from fishing five years ago. Since then his life has been baseball.

Birthday Party Given At Little Chute Home

Little Chute—Announcement was made at St. John church Sunday of the coming marriage of Miss Dolores Verkuilen, daughter of Matthew Verkuilen of this village and Urban Daalwyk, Kimberly.

Mrs. Peter Smits, Sr., Kimberly entertained Sunday evening at her home in honor of the seventy-fifth birthday anniversary of her husband. Cards provided amusement and a lunch was served. The guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Smits, Little Chute; Mr. and Mrs. Otto Harke, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Smits, Mr. and Mrs. John Smits, Peter Smits, Jr., and Raymond Smits, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Valentine, Kimberly.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Versteegen, Depot street, entertained at a 6 o'clock dinner at their home Thursday evening in honor of the first wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Adrian Godschalk, Victoria street, Appleton. Cards followed the dinner.

Miss Harriet Vander Wetering left Saturday for Iowa after a several weeks visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Jansen.

Irene Versteegen was elected president of the Girls Athletic association of St. John high school at a meeting held recently. Other officers elected were: Jacoba Verbruggen, vice president; Margaret Mary De Groot, secretary; Margaret Peeters, treasurer; Eunice Hartjes, point secretary; Rosemary Lucasen, volleyball; Ida Versteegen, basketball; Phyllis Zarnow, tennis; Helen Koehn, softball. Miss Marie Driessen, coach.

Miss Anna Peeters who is employed in Milwaukee spent the weekend at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Stephen M. Peeters, Main street.

MINNESOTANS AT CICERO
Cicero—Mr. and Mrs. Herman Quandt and children of Minnesota, were guests of the Rev. and Mrs. August Quandt the last week.

Guests Sunday at the Quandt home were the Rev. and Mrs. Nuss and children of Pella and the Rev.

Wins First Place In State Contest

Harland Kirchner Takes Individual Judging Honors at Madison

Clintonville — Harland Kirchner of Clintonville High school and a member of the Future Farmers of America won first place in the state for individual judging at the state contests held Friday and Saturday at Madison. Harland is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kirchner who reside on a farm just south of this city.

Two teams from the local high school took second places in the state judging contests, where 15 teams were entered in the competition. Eighteen hundred Wisconsin boys and girls were in Madison for the various contests conducted by the agriculture department. E. A. Hutchinson, director of vocational agriculture at the Clintonville high school, accompanied the teams on the trip.

Harland Kirchner, Donald Stege and Louis Mueller composed the crops-judging team, which won second place in crops judging and in the judging of corn and hay. Arnold Malotky, Edmund Schuelke and Roland Splitterber made up the live stock judging team, which was awarded second place in the state.

The "State Farmer Degree" was conferred upon Oscar Malotky also of the Clintonville Future Farmers of America during their stay at Madison. Delegates from the local chapter to the state convention of Future Farmers on Friday were Ivan Rohrer and Kenneth Bodoh.

Enroute to Madison on Thursday afternoon, Mr. Hutchinson and the boys stopped at Waupun, where they went through the state prison. On Saturday afternoon, the group attended the Farmer Degree football game at Camp Randall.

Children of the Congregational Sunday school held a party at the church parlors on Saturday evening.

A daughter was born at the Clintonville Community hospital Monday to Mr. and Mrs. Fred Riege of Marion.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Pooler spent Sunday at Green Bay, guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Orval Budd.

Guests at the Thomas and McLaughlin homes Sunday included Mr. and Mrs. John Ashenbrenner and sons of Gresham, Mr. and Mrs. Frances McLaughlin and John McLaughlin, West Allis, and Mr. and Mrs. Earl McLaughlin of Appleton.

513-17 W. COLLEGE AVE.
APPLETON, WIS.

Dear Friends and Customers:
It is 40 years now, since the foundation of the Wichmann Furniture Company — and, so many things have changed since then. Appleton has developed until it resembles a new world from that of many years ago. And with the progress of our city, this store has progressed too.
One thing, though, that has not changed — and all time cannot make it change — the principles of our business, the integrity of our policy: the truth which we maintain without the slightest deviation.
And now it is our birthday — an event which we want you to join us in celebrating. For without you, this store's progress would never have been possible. Without you our business could never have grown and expanded to its present position — one of Wisconsin's leading furniture establishments.
Yours very truly,
E. Wichmann

BY HULBERT FOOTNER

SYNOPSIS: Neill, a young federal agent, comes to Baltimore to spend a week with Janet. But she won't break a dinner date with Prescott Fanning. From what Janet says, Neill distrusts Fanning and labels him a crook. They quarrel and part. To check on Fanning, Neill finds him at his hotel and gets acquainted at the bar. Fanning gives him knockout drops in whiskey and then searches Neill's papers, taking a snapshot of Janet. Next noon Neill awakens to find Janet, Fanning and Fanning's yacht gone. A mysterious phone call tells him Janet is aboard the yacht in Absalom's Harbor and "in bad trouble."

Chapter Seven

BUS TO ABSALOM'S

At 4:45 that afternoon the bus for Absalom's pulled out of the terminal on Remond street, and headed south. Neill, a young man with a wooden face, now that he had an objective, he had steadied; he could wait. After thinking it over, he had decided to handle this matter by himself—quietly. He wished to avoid subjecting Janet to any ugly publicity. He had dressed himself in a rough surveyor's outfit including khaki breeches and knee boots in order to be ready for anything.

The bus was a small one for local traffic, and the passengers were all residents of the southern counties who had been to town for a day's shopping. Neill, as the only "foreigner" aboard received many curious glances which made him slightly uneasy because he didn't want to be so well remembered afterward. He had to adopt a new name and character for this expedition. A Ford car passed at the moment and he noticed a field of wheat darkening for the harvest. So be it; he would call himself Ford Wheatley.

The driver, whom the passengers addressed as "Joey," appeared to be the main circulating medium of gossip for the counties. He was a well-set-up young fellow with a snappy fedora on one side of his head, and he thought well of himself. He imparted the local news to his passengers and received what they had in return. Neill paid little attention to the talk back and forth.

The principal subjects were crops and fishin'. But he pricked up his ears when he heard a voice ask Joey what was the latest from Absalom's. Joey said:

"There was a dandy little yacht come into the harbor before dawn. She busted a gear or something out in the bay. I fetched her engineer up to town this morning to have a new one made. He calculated to go back with me this evening, but he ain't turned up, so I reckon it wasn't finished in time."

Good! thought Neill. The yacht is still there.

"What's the yacht's name?" somebody asked.

"Nadji."

"What the hell's that mean?"

"I reckon if I know Henry."

"Who's her owner?"

"Gent named Barrett from New York."

New York was too far away to be of any interest to them, and the

Library Circulates 2,800 Books During September

Kaukauna—The number of books circulated at the public library for September was 2,873, according to Bernice M. Happer, librarian. Of this number 940 were from the juvenile department and 1,933 from the adult department.

The library's collection now numbers 7,196 volumes, 62 of which were added during September. Sixty-six new readers registered and 113 withdrew their cards, leaving the total adult registration 1,481 and the juvenile registration 854. Loans to schools were 147 volumes, with 160 books loaned to rural residents.

New books put into circulation during September on the rental shelf were "The Citadel," by Cronin; "The Langworthy Family," by Corbett; "Manhattan Love Song," by Norris; "Strange Proposal," by Hill; "Lily of the Field," by Ferguson; "Heart's Retreat," by Derr; "Of Love Beware," by Knevels; "I've Been to London," by Bailey; "You Can't Have Everything," by Norris; "Meet Mr. Lochinvar," by Blizard; "She Painted Her Face," by Yates; "Stormy Petrel," by Carroll; "This Side of Regret," by Cushman; "Pattern of Three," by Bradley; "Let Me Die Tuesday," by Miller; "Challenge to Happiness," by Groig; and "Deep Summer," by Bristow.

Council May Act On Proposal of Municipal Union

Expect Report by Committee at Meeting of Aldermen Tonight

Kaukauna — Consideration of a proposed union agreement presented at the Aug. 17 meeting of the council and referred at that time to a committee will form one of the items of business at the meeting of the council tonight. The agreement came up at the last meeting Sept. 21 and was laid over until tonight. The proposed agreement was presented by the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees, Kaukauna local 130. The committee selected to study the agreement and recommend its views to the council is composed of Aldermen Cooper, Alger and Lutzke.

In the original agreement given to the council eight provisions are laid down which the union wishes adopted as rules by which any disputes between workers and the city will be settled.

The agreement asks the council to affirm its willingness to "recognize and meet with a duly elected committee" from the union in all future negotiations with employees.

Seniority Rights

It is further asked in Part 4 of the agreement that employees seniority rights begin at the time their pay started, and the system of promotion through seniority and merit which the union wishes installed is described.

A request for a week's vacation without loss of pay is Part 6 of the agreement, followed by the rule that in case of an employee's being dismissed he shall return to work within one week without loss of seniority and shall work until final disposition of his case is made by the council.

Part eight reads "the city agrees employees shall have the right to select a committee to meet with the heads of the department and budget committee to work out a satisfactory wage agreement."

City Attorney Harry F. McAndrews is expected to report on his efforts to investigate, through the state highway department, the possibilities of making Highway 41 an arterial and of installing speed signs. At the last meeting James E. MacFadden reported there was much speeding on Highway 41 with accompanying danger to children and other pedestrians crossing the highway daily on Green street and Maloney road.

Another ordinance laid over at the last meeting for consideration tonight is one making changes in the electrical workers code. Because of its length each councilman was given a copy to study before tonight's meeting.

First Fire Drill of Year Held at School

Kaukauna — The first fire drill of the year was held yesterday at Kaukauna high school as part of the activities of Fire Prevention week. The various home rooms and assemblies marched from their seats in accordance with a plan previously posted on the bulletin boards.

The entire city, including business and residential districts, will be inspected for fire hazards and protections, Chief Henry Ester announced. Fire drills will also be held at the other schools of the city.

Reserves Drill as Kaws Prepare for St. Mary Contest

Many First Team Players Excused From Practice Monday

Kaukauna—For the first time this season most of the first team players were excused from Monday's practice as Coach Paul E. Little spent the afternoon working with the reserves. Those of the first team who were given the day off were Alger, Lambie, Pendergast, F. Hooyman, Giordana, McCormick, Kobussen and Niesen.

Saturday the Kaws will play St. Mary's of Menasha here, and a week from Saturday will play their most crucial game of the season against West DePore there. With one defeat, that in the opening game at Shawano, hanging over them, the Kaws must play perfect ball from now on to remain in the running for the Northeastern conference championship.

The Kaws should take the St. Mary's game in their stride Saturday, if they play as they have against Clintonville and New London. It must not be forgotten, however, as Little pointed out yesterday, that the Clintonville game was more a matter of the Trucks' defensive weaknesses than Kaws strength, and that all three of Kaukauna's touchdowns against New London came as the result of breaks.

Menasha should get the breaks next Saturday, but the Kaws got quite an upset, Little said. With these things in mind Little's main efforts during the week will be the developing of capable replacements for his first stringers. It was only last week against Clintonville that Little was able to make substitutions in any number, with 27 men getting into the game. Last Saturday New London at one time or another, as a result of substitutions, these two contests Little has gained some knowledge of the capabilities of his replacements. The more likely of them will receive much attention in the practices of this week.

The most gratifying development of Saturday's game was the smashing game played by Carl Kobussen, who hitherto had showed little in the way of line plunging. Saturday he averaged almost four yards every time he touched the ball, showing a large amount of drive. With Kobussen and McCormick to run off tackles and around the ends, and Peterson to pass and kick the Kaw backfield is shaping up as one of the best in the league.

19 Gridders Performed In New London Contest

Kaukauna — Nineteen players saw action in the New London game Saturday. Coach Paul E. Little said yesterday. Three regulars, Lambie, F. Hooyman and Frank played the entire game, being closely followed by Alger with 44 minutes, Pendergast with 42 and McCormick with 45. Other players and their times were Yoie, 24; Hilgenberg, 34; Powers, 34; Peterson, 30; Giordana, 36; Ashe, 3; Kobussen, 42; Schubring, 6; Vanevenhoven, 6; A. Hooyman, 5; Rohan 4 and Niesen, 24.

conversation passed to other matters.

"Joey, did you hear that Jake Stivers hauled seine at Battle Island yesterday and pulled in 3,000 pound of rock?"

"No kidding?"

"Gemen, it's a fact! At 10 cents a pound that's $300 at one haul."

"That money will burn a hole in Jake's pants, certain. Bet he comes out in a new automobile, Sunday."

As they bowed down the concrete road, the afternoon shadows lengthened and the passengers got off one by one. Finally there were only two left for Absalom's. The driver kept turning his head to cast an inquisitive eye at the stranger. At last he said:

"Are you acquainted in Absalom's, mister?"

"No. Never been there before."

"What's your business there, may I ask?"

"No business. Thought I'd like a couple of days' fishing."

"You ain't brought no tackle."

"Well, I wasn't sure what I'd need. I'll get it there."

"Ain't often a fellow comes down alone to go fishing?"

"Oh, reckon I can join on to some party."

"Where you going to stop?"

"There's a hotel, isn't there?"

"Sure, there's Wickes's hotel, but you'll do better in one of the boarding houses."

"Well, I'll go to the hotel tonight and look 'round in the morning."

"What's the name, mister?"

"Ford Wheatley."

"Where from?"

"Baltimore."

"Who you work for there?"

"I represent a New York firm."

And so on. And so on.

As they came over the top of a low hill, Joey pointed out their destination far off to the left. Neill saw, on a little promontory almost surrounded by blue water, a village of white houses dazzling in the level rays of the sun. The wide mouth of the river lay beyond and still farther off, the misty expanse of the Chesapeake. Neill hardened as he looked at the pretty scene. There lay his job.

Coach Will Announce Play Cast Wednesday

Kaukauna — The cast of "Bashful Bobby," senior class play at the high school this year, will be announced tomorrow. Alice Gruenberger, dramatics coach at the high school, said this morning. Tryouts for the 12 places in the cast, divided equally between six boys and six girls have been in progress more than a week.

Four Gigantic Ships

As they turned the next corner in the road, four gigantic ships loomed before them moored side by side, and making a little forest of masts and funnels. It was a surprising sight to come upon in that simple countryside.

"See them ships?" said Joey.

"Them's what we took from Germany after the war. It's the Montpeller, the Montmorenci, the Columbia and the Abraham Lincoln. Look as if they was moored right in the cornfield, don't it? The river's there, but you can't see it from here. Once they was the biggest and the fastest ships on the ocean. I been aboard 'em. Jehu! What grand saloons and cabins with the walls covered with handpaintings and all! It's a sight, mister!"

"What are they doing down here?" asked Neill.

"The shipping board keeps them down here because there's good shelter and deep water, and it don't cost nothing."

"Are they just rusting away?"

"No, indeed. Old Captain Bickel and three men lives aboard, and

Stork Beats Reaper. 10 to 5, at Kaukauna During Last Month

Kaukauna—Kaukauna had twice as many births in September as in August, 10 to 5, the monthly health report revealed today. There were eight births in July. There were also more deaths in September than in August, the number being nine to six. In July there were seven deaths.

Marriages dropped off from 13 in August to 8 in September but still exceeded the 5 in July.

There were five cases of a contagious nature, two of infantile paralysis, two of scarlet fever and one of whooping cough.

SCHOOL BOARD MEETS

Kaukauna—Routine business was transacted at the regular meeting of the school board at the high school last night. The purchase of two typewriters was voted.

Dim Lights for Safety

It was about eight o'clock and still light when they pulled up in front of Longscope's general store which faced the harbor. Neill's eyes instantly fastened on the trim little yacht lying there. A crowd had gathered on the porch of the store to greet the bus and he decided to wait a little until dark before going out to the yacht. It would attract less attention.

"Hey, Wickes!" shouted Joey.

"Here's a longer for you."

The hotel was next door to the store. It was a stinging clapboard building of several stories out of keeping with the old village. The proprietor, a slack-looking fat man, came forward and Neill submitted to being shown a room, but declined dinner. It was impossible to think of eating until he had done what he had come for.

Post Office Receipts Show Little Change

Kaukauna — Postal receipts for September were $1,677.61, Postmaster R. H. McCarty said this morning, the sales representing a small decrease over September of 1936, and an increase over the sales of $1,615.17 for August. July receipts were $1,708.82, the highest of the summer months.

Knights of Columbus to Celebrate Landing Day

Kaukauna—The Knights of Columbus will celebrate Landing Day, Oct. 12, with a program including a speaker, cards and dancing. The evening will begin with a covered dish party and no admission will be charged. The council's lecturer and his committee, together with a committee of Knights of Columbus ladies, are in charge of arrangements.

A number of large mirrors designed to enable drivers of vehicles to see traffic approaching from various directions will be installed at street corners in Buenos Aires.

More Than 1,000 Visit Phone Company Office

More than 1,000 persons visited the Appleton office of the Wisconsin Telephone company here yesterday and last night. It was reported today by W. H. Corcoran, manager.

The office was open to visitors this afternoon and the 2-day public inspection will close at 9 o'clock tonight. Visitors are being conducted through the operating room by employees.

Wau-paca—In a letter received Monday by Lester M. Emans, city superintendent of schools, the offer of a federal grant for $39,960 for an elementary school building, was confirmed. The offer provided that the city must begin work as soon as possible, and in no event later than 12 weeks from the date of the offer. The project also must be completed with all practicable dispatch and within 12 months from commencement of construction.

The letter also says the offer must be accepted or rejected within 15 days after it is received, and it will be brought to the attention of public officials Tuesday forenoon and before the common council Tuesday evening at their regular session.

Confirmation of the grant calls a year-long campaign for federal aid for a school unit to house elementary grades. Wau-paca's school enrollment has long outgrown present building accommodations. The new building which will cost approximately $97,000, will be a six or eight room elementary unit, the first of a new building, and will be at the east edge of the present school property, not far from the J. C. Hart property.

Plans Being Drafted

Plans for the school are in the hands of the architects, Oppenheimer and Obel, Milwaukee, and at the most recent meeting of the city council Sept. 21, a resolution was passed providing an allowance of $1,500 for the plans. The contract was awarded to the firm. The firm was unusual, in that they agreed to make preliminary drawings so Wau-paca's application for a federal grant might be considered. However, a clause was inserted by the school board and City Attorney L. D. Smith, saying the architects were to get no remuneration unless the contract was let.

Finding that some several weeks were to be consumed to prepare the work to be done, in regard to plans, specifications, etc., at a cost of approximately $2,000, the firm hesitated to continue without some compensation. For this purpose the council voted the appropriation which will be considered a part of the regular compensation of the architects.

The present high school building constructed in 1912 was planned to accommodate about 200 pupils, the enrollment at the present time is 408. With the prospective new unit, upper grades will be moved from the high school building to the old grade building, erected in 1893, and now termed by state school inspectors as "unsanitary, over-crowded and a fire hazard," thus relieving high school congestion. Pupils now are being crowded into former offices and pantries for classrooms, which have been condemned for insanitary light, ventilation and floor space. The new unit will allow lowering of the proportion of pupils per class room (Wau-paca's class-rooms average far more than state recommendations) and will succeed in getting the smallest children out of the old grade-school fire trap.

Approved by Voters

While at the spring election voters approved a bond issue of $68,000 by a vote of 539 to 469, as the city's portion of the cost of the building if the federal grant should come through, the bonding issue will be $11,000 less than the voters approved. These bonds will be issued if a resolution to that effect is adopted by the council when presented to them Nov. 16, although a special session will undoubtedly be called to legalize the bond issue before that date.

According to Mayor F. R. Fisher, the city's portion of the cost of the building for the new building will be let about the middle of December.

$39,960 Grant for New School Unit Assured Wau-paca

City Has 15 Days to Accept; Work Must Start Within 12 Weeks

Officials Confer On Disposition Of Relief Claims

About $3,000 in Non-Resident Accounts Settled at New London Session

New London — Approximately $3,000 in non-resident relief claims were settled among various government agencies of a wide area at a hearing at the city hall here yesterday morning and afternoon. About 25 officials, including district attorneys, county, town and village clerks and chairmen, and other authorities presented their claims before Fred W. Armstrong, of the Public Welfare department of the Wisconsin Industrial commission. Some of the cases went back 15 years.

Representing Waupaca county in a claim of about $277 against the village of Leona was the county special pauper committee composed of P. C. Jensen, town of Farmington; George Rebmam, town of Waupaca; and Ike Poeple, city of New London. The case was settled favorably.

The pauper committee was established by the county board recently to prevent the accumulation of old non-resident relief claims, which have often proved costly to collect. Under the new plan all cases are checked twice a month by the special committee.

Waupaca county is the first county to set about collecting past due pauper accounts, but has met with much difficulty because there is no precedent to follow and many of the accounts are fifteen years old. Officials are hopeful that before they have finished the most of approximately $75,000 due the county from other counties and municipalities will be paid.

Stores Complain Of Shoplifters

Report Theft of Two .22 Caliber Rifles at New London

New London—Believed to be the same parties who snatched two women's purses at Waupaca and Weyauwega Saturday night, several reports of shoplifters in downtown department stores late Saturday afternoon were received by New London police. At one store two youths were detected suspiciously removing price tags from articles but disappeared after the police were called. The pair escaped police later when another store reported their suspicious actions. No accurate description of their appearance could be given.

About the same time two .22 caliber rifles were reported taken from two different hardware stores. City and county authorities are investigating the cases.

New London Society

New London—The past presidents of the Women's Relief corps were entertained by Mrs. Ed Jagoditch at her home yesterday afternoon. Prizes were won by Mrs. John Yost, Mrs. Francis Yost and Mrs. Nellie Wells. Next month Mrs. L. J. Manske will be hostess.

Knights of Columbus will hold a regular business meeting at the Catholic parish hall Wednesday evening. Plans will be discussed further for the Columbus day banquet which will be held by the group on Monday, Oct. 11.

Capener at Building And Loan Convention

New London—Ormond W. Capener, secretary of the New London Building and Loan association, left last week with hundreds of other secretaries throughout the state on an 18-day tour of the southwestern United States enroute to and from a 5-day national convention of the Building and Loan at Los Angeles, Calif.

A special train bearing the men left Milwaukee last Thursday evening. All scenic and historical points of interest enroute will be visited and the return trip will be over a route wisely separated from the first. The excursionists will return Oct. 18.

Installation Service Held for New Priest

Waupaca—An installation service for the Rev. Francis Schmitt was held Sunday morning in the church of St. Mary's, of which Fr. Schmitt has been appointed pastor. The service was the Rev. Paul Horn of New London.

Father Schmitt gave a brief talk on "Why We Have Priests—and Their Duties."

New London Office

News and circulation departments of the Appleton Post-Crescent are represented in New London by Alvin J. Brault, 103 E. Cook-street. News items and orders for subscriptions may be left at that address or may be telephoned by calling 18. Papers missed by carriers will be delivered if complaint is made before 7 p. m.

Women's Recreation Group Will Organize

New London—Adult women and girl graduates will meet at the Washington High school gym at 7:30 this evening to organize the women's recreational group with Miss Alice Ziener, physical education instructor. Plans will be made for volleyball teams with informal play and instruction for beginners. The men will meet with R. M. Shortell Thursday evening for organization.

Diver Fixes Main On River Bottom

Repairs Leaking Joint in 8-Inch Pipe Near Power Plant

New London—A professional diver yesterday was employed by the New London Light and Water department to repair a leaking joint in an 8-inch water main under the Wolf river near the municipal power plant. Lead coking in a pipe joint was found to have been blown out.

The leak was detected late last week when a sharp drop in water pressure was recorded and gurgling of the water was noticed in the river.

Repairing the leak under nine feet of water was diver Fred W. Krause of the Waterways Engineering corporation at Green Bay. He was tended by Norbert Herms, also of Green Bay. The men worked from the upper boat dock landing which was anchored in the middle of the river for the job.

Hanson Photograph Is Second at Exhibit

New London—A painted photograph by Mrs. Ralph W. Hanson of this city was adjudged the second most outstanding photograph on exhibit at the forty-seventh annual convention of the Professional Photographers Association of Wisconsin which ended at Green Bay Friday. Acclaimed the most outstanding was a monotone print by C. R. Reinson of Madison, it was revealed yesterday by Mrs. Hanson.

Of six blue ribbons awarded in the painted class Mrs. Hanson received two. It was her first experience in competition and she made entries only in the colored class. Of hundreds of prints submitted only several hundred were hung. The subject of her outstanding print were the three children of Dr. and Mrs. L. F. Morneau of Bear Creek while the other ribbon winner was a child portrait of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Keeney's little daughter from Weyauwega. The pictures were finished in a new color process. The winning entries have been placed on display at the Carter-Hanson studio.

New London Lions are Guests at Weyauwega

New London — Members of the New London Lions club were guests of the Weyauwega Lions at a joint meeting at Weyauwega last night. Members of the Manawa club also were present. A program was arranged by the Weyauwega club. The New London club omitted its regular noon luncheon meeting today.

Students to Get Forms For Home Fire Inspection

New London—Distribution of 2,000 home fire inspection blanks to local school children will be made by the New London Fire department this week in observance of National Fire Prevention week. The sheets were ordered printed by the department to provide an impromptu survey of fire prevention conditions in the homes of students. The inspection blank consists of a list of questions which require actual inspection of the premises to answer accurately.

In addition, fire drills will be conducted at all schools during the week. The fire whistle will be blown each day at noon and the main truck of the department will be driven daily through the city streets carrying the fire prevention banner.

Complete new wiring and switch equipment was installed for the fire alarm system at the department quarters last week. A new pilot bell was provided and the old knife switches were replaced with the modern push-button type. The work was done by the city light and water department. Records indicate the old installation was made in 1912.

Outlying hydrants were tested by members of the department last night prior to the regular meeting of the group at the department house. Practice also was held with extension ladders.

The auxiliary to the Wisconsin Paid Firemen's association held a social meeting in the Nesbitt apartments above the fire house last night.

Park Board Discusses Recreation Program

New London—Tentative and general plans for next summer's outdoor recreational program were discussed by the park board at a meeting at Washington High school last night. No definite conclusions were reached but the board plans to meet every two weeks until the 1938 program is well established. School playgrounds, park areas and the swimming pool will be considered.

Members of the board are Aldermen Harold Pieper, William Little and Otto Stern; E. H. Smith of the school board; H. H. Helms, superintendent of schools; and R. M. Shortell, city recreational director.

STOCKHOLDERS TO MEET

New London—The annual stockholders meeting of the New London Golf club will be held at the Springvale clubhouse Wednesday evening. Among other business directors for the new year will be nominated.

CASE IS DISMISSED

Waupaca — The case of Ewald Kitzman, 22, Big Falls, heard before Justice of the Peace S. W. Johnson Monday afternoon, was dismissed. Kitzman was charged with transporting a mortgaged car

New York Policeman Guest of Rotarians

New London — Archibald J. Burns, sergeant in the New York police force, was a guest of the New London Rotary club at the regular noon luncheon meeting at the Elwood hotel yesterday. The visitor, a brother of the late John J. Burns, local lumber broker, entertained the club with a short account of the operation of traffic arrests in New York and the handling of criminal cases.

The sergeant is attached to the twenty-fifth New York precinct department and will return to duty tomorrow. He was introduced to the club by Fay R. Smith, program chairman.

Clintonville Rotary Hears Traffic Officer

Waupaca — Traffic Officer Earl Polzin, gave police officers of the city of Clintonville a boost when he appeared before the members of the Clintonville Rotary club Monday noon and made the statement that the city of Clintonville had the "least number of accidents of any city within the county during the year." He attended the meeting as a representative of the sheriff's department, delivering an address on "Safety."

Set Date Soon for Hearing On Plea From New London

(Post-Crescent Madison Bureau)

Madison — The state public service commission today informed New London city officials that it will set a hearing date and place within ten days on the matter of a new railroad crossing in the city. The city has petitioned the commission for a new crossing in connection with the extension of East Quincy street across the right of way of the Chicago and North Western railway to connect Quincy street with another thoroughfare.

Train Hits Auto In Rantoul Town

Heavy Fog Blamed for Three Accidents; No Serious Injuries

Chilton—Clarence, Leonard and Herman Reimer, three brothers living on Highway 114 in the town of Rantoul, were driving west on that highway at about 8 o'clock Sunday evening, and on account of the heavy fog, failed to see an oncoming freight train of the C. M. and St. Paul railroad. The train struck their car, and the boys received injuries on their heads and shoulders, but none of them was injured seriously.

Elmer Sohrweide, Roman Hoerth and Dorothy Stecker were driving on County Trunk E near the Walter Bringmann farm in the town of Rantoul Sunday evening, and, blinded by the fog, ran into a culvert. Miss Stecker received a cut over one eye, and Mr. Sohrweide received bruises on his head and chest. Mr. Hoerth, who was driving, was uninjured. They left the car there to take Miss Stecker to her home, and while they were gone Francis Koehler of Brant, unable to see the car on account of the fog, ran into the car and received a cut on his forehead. Both cars were badly damaged.

The first union label was used by San Francisco cigar makers about 1874.

Mayor of Waupaca Hopes County Will Reduce Tax Levy

Waupaca—With the city budget approximately $34,000, including relief, the present administration has reduced expenses for the taxpayer just 26 per cent. The city budget alone shows a reduction of 33 per cent, $11,500 less for the 1937 budget than the 1936.

Indications are that the school budget will be $33,000, an increase of $5,000.

Mayor F. R. Fisher "hopes that the county tax will be reduced this year; so far there is not much encouragement."

"If the county will effect a reduction it will be the means of giving the overburdened taxpayer quite a relief, for according to prospects, times are going to be pretty tough," he said.

The mayor has come to the conclusion that "there isn't much use in city officials straining themselves to reduce the cost of government for local education if the county tax is to absorb all the savings that city authorities are able to obtain through their efforts along the lines of constructive economy."

SCOUT GROUP MEETS

Waupaca — The first monthly meeting of scouts in the Waupaca district, for the season will be held Tuesday evening with a 6:30 dinner at the Modern restaurant. About twenty are expected to be present. They are members of the troop committees, district committees, scoutmasters and assistant scoutmasters.
